LONDON ENVOY RETURNS FROM GERMANY VISIT

Commons to Be Given Statement on Halifax-Hitler Talk

Official Mission Now Suggested

LONDON (CP)—Viscount Halifax, Lord President of the Council, returned from Berlin this afternoon. He had an appointment to see Foreign Secretary Eden to give an account of his conversations with Chancellor Hitler.

Rt. Hon. Clement Attlee, Labor leader, asked in the House of Commons this afternoon when a statement would be made as to the results of Lord Halifax's trip to Germany.

The Prime Minister, pointing out he had not yet seen Lord Halifax, said he could make no statement, and asked Mr. Attlee to delay his question until tomorrow.

OFFICIAL MISSION

LONDON (CP-Havas)—The Manchester Guardian, Liberal, suggested today official British envoys may be sent to Berlin before German Foreign Minister Neurath visits Great Britain to discuss European problems.

If the German diplomat does come, it was indicated in The Yorkshire Post, Conservative, he will do so in response to the invitation issued several months ago, rather than to one extended during the just-concluded visit to Germany of Viscount Halifax.

The Berlin correspondent of The Post said Germans now realize Great Britain will never join the anti-Communist pact or consent to take part in any ideological struggle.

They also know, he added, that France will oppose a four-power western pact if it is not accompanied by a pact guaranteeing the security of eastern Europe. He declared some influential leaders believe Germany should conclude a non-aggression pact with Czechoslovakia.

A Berlin dispatch to The Manchester Guardian said: "Whether the time is ripe for usefully extending an invitation to the German Foreign Minister to go to London would appear to be a matter for the British cabinet to judge after Lord Halifax has reported fully on his conversations."

Britain's New Trade Move Aids Nations

Chamberlain Says Talks With U.S. Will Help Solve World Problems

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today the government was taking "definite, positive action" to solve world economic problems.

He cited the trade negotiations with the United States as an example.

His statement replied to a question on the government's intentions concerning a speech of King Leopold of Belgium here last week, appealing to Great Britain to take the lead in seeking world economic improvement.

IN AGREEMENT

LONDON (CP-Havas)—Political importance of the "will to agree" demonstrated by both Great Britain and the United States during preliminary negotiations for a trade agreement was emphasized today in an editorial in The Financial News.

"So often have we seen the initiative taken by totalitarian states that news of a major agreement between the two greatest democracies is highly

Trio Recaptured After Jail Break In Saskatchewan

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—A posse of Saskatchewan penitentiary officers today rounded up three convicts who escaped from the institution here late Sunday night. The fleeing convicts were captured seven miles east of Prince Albert.

The recaptured men are Clarence Roy Nolan, Douglas Chalmers and John Tulkitch, alias Jack Thomson. They made their break for freedom around midnight, but were back behind the bars at noon today.

There was a chase through the snow. Nolan is serving an eight-year sentence, Chalmers a five-year sentence and Tulkitch a four-year term.

Montreal Home Raided By Police

Officers Say Communist Pamphlets Found in G. Belanger's House

MONTREAL (CP)—Books, pamphlets and other literature were seized in a raid under Quebec's "padlock law" at the home of a man named Georges Belanger, according to a statement by provincial police.

The papers were alleged by police to include a report of Communist activities in Canada, but they would disclose no details.

Quebec province's "padlock law," directed against Communism, provides for the seizure of Communist literature and the padlocking of premises where it is found. Six raids were made in Montreal under the law last week, and several places padlocked.

Officers closed up included those of the weekly newspaper La Clarte and the Friends of the Soviet Union. There were no arrests.

CITY PIONEER DIED TODAY

Mrs. Helen K. Andrew, Here Since 1865, Passes in Vancouver

Mrs. Helen Kate Andrew, widow of John Alexander Andrew of Victoria, and member of a well-known pioneer family, passed away this morning in Vancouver, aged 83 years.

Mrs. Andrew was the last surviving child of Richard and Abbe Woods, who arrived in Victoria in 1861 from Parsonstown, Ireland, and whose pioneer home was Garbally Farm on Victoria Arm. She was predeceased by her sisters, the Misses Lily and Emily Woods and Mrs. Robert Tomlinson, also by her brother, Richard Edward Woods of Grande Prairie, B.C., and Salmon Arm.

As a small child she arrived in Victoria after a two-months' journey in 1865, and made her home here until the past few years, since which time she has resided with her eldest daughter in Vancouver. Mrs. Andrew saw Victoria grow from its very beginning and was known and loved by all in the old days. Her heart and her hands were always

FUEL REPORT TO BE PRINTED

Big Demand for Document Tabled in House

The Macdonald commission's voluminous report on the coal and petroleum industries in the province will be printed by the King's Printer and made available to the public at cost, probably $3.50 a copy.

This was decided today by the Legislature's printing committee, which met under Mrs. Paul Smith, Liberal, Vancouver-Burrard. The recommendation will be made to the House immediately.

It was stated that the cost of printing 1,000 copies would be $3,500.

Although the report has just been released, requests are in from many parts of the continent for copies. Oil companies in the east and government departments in Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan are among those who have asked.

It will probably be some time before the copies are available owing to the size of the document and the work involved in the printing.

No More Loans For B.C. Industry

Post-war Assistance Plan Now to Be Wound Up

Government loans and guarantees to industry in British Columbia will cease after passage of the new Department of Trade and Industries Bill.

Under an amendment to the bill brought into the Legislature by Premier Pattullo the authority to make guarantees is removed. In 1933 the previous government put a halt to borrowings for direct loans.

According to the last public statements, the industrial scheme launched just after the war to start industries for re-employment of returned men, has cost the public treasury approximately $561,000. Another $201,000 is out in active loans, yet to be collected, and a further $107,300 in guarantees made in the last four years.

The balance sheet at last March 31 lapsed loans totaling $466,399 with interest of $95,364 unpaid. The remaining $201,000 was made up of nine individual loans and interest due.

Since the department was formed in 1919, 108 companies have been financially assisted by way of loans, which totaled $1,477,511. It is estimated that 3,000 employees have been given work, and payrolls amounting to nearly $50,000,000 developed as a result of the assistance given.

Since June, 1934, 12 guarantees totaling $107,300 have been made. Seven have been repaid in full and five are outstanding, with a total amount of $64,430. These guarantees, it is stated, have been responsible for employment of 330 employees and distribution of $248,000 in wages.

Mayor McGavin States Policy

Announces Platform With Statement of Intention to Seek Re-election

Sketching his stand on some of the major issues which had come before the City Council during the year, Mayor Andrew McGavin has announced his platform for the coming civic election and his intention to again seek the office of mayor. His statement followed the announcement of Alderman J. D. Hunter, M.P.P., that he would seek the mayor's post.

With the exception of creating an outside audit, he had fulfilled all his election promises, the mayor said. He had declined to press for the outside audit when the council had shown no favor to that move, he added.

He had, he said, followed a fiscal policy aimed at protecting the people's pockets, had carried on unimpaired by outside sources and had remained in the city.

The mayor declared he had assisted in every way in his power measures to facilitate the refunding scheme.

He had further made every effort to conserve resources of the city and to keep the expenditures as low as possible.

On water board issues, he said he had pursued the same policies of the preceding four years in regard to logging at Goldstream and had introduced a higher rate to Saanich. That rate had not yet been accepted, he said. With regard to Oak Bay's application for a lower rate, he stated he believed that a move to forestall the city's intended action for an increase when the existing agreement terminates.

The mayor stated he was not antagonistic to outside municipalities, but intended to follow a course which would protect city taxpayers from spending their money on outside territories.

He emphasized the importance of the B.C. Electric franchise up for action next year.

The mayor stressed his independence of outside forces and pledged himself to devote his whole time and energies to the interest of the taxpayers if elected.

Closing, he paid a high tribute to the support accorded him by the City Council throughout the year.

Magistrate to Wear Gown

Solemnity of Police Courts to Be Enhanced

The solemnity of police courts in Victoria and Vancouver will be increased by the magistrates wearing gowns instead of ordinary business suits.

Attorney-General Gordon Wismer announced today he had been visited by the magistrates of both cities with the suggestion and had agreed to it.

The practice of police magistrates having gowns is carried out in Ontario. In British Columbia the magistrates sit on the bench with ordinary clothes and only in the higher courts are gowns worn.

Gas Prices Cut On the Prairies

Reduction Follows Use of Turner Valley Crude in Refineries

REGINA (CP)—First results of the use of the Turner Valley crude oil in refining in the west, gasoline prices throughout Saskatchewan dropped one cent to half a cent a gallon today.

The move followed price drops announced for Alberta Sunday.

The price drop was first announced here by the Imperial Oil Company, which has been using Turner Valley crude in refining for some weeks now. The company has already started on a $350,000 building and extension programme to handle the new crude.

Other companies followed suit immediately. The drop of one cent was made on what is known as green gas, 29½ cents for white gas and 35 cents for red or Ethyl gas.

This put the price of gasoline in Regina at 32½ cents a gallon for green gas, 29½ cents for white gas and 35 cents for red or Ethyl gas.

In Alberta the reductions announced were one cent a gallon on Ethyl gasoline, a cent and a half on standard grades, and a cent on the Turner Valley white gas. The new rates in Calgary were set at: Ethyl, 31 cents a gallon; standard grades, 28½

CAMPAIGN IN FINAL WEEK

Voting in By-election Next Monday; Party Chiefs to Speak

The federal by-election campaign here swung into its final week today. Official nominations closed at 2 this afternoon and voting will take place next Monday.

It remains a three-cornered contest with R. W. Mayhew, Liberal, Bruce A. McKelvie, Conservative, and Prof. J. King Gordon, C.C.F., as the candidates nominated.

The campaign will take on a national aspect this week as two party leaders and a member of the federal cabinet participate. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, is listed to speak Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, is posted to speak Wednesday and Saturday nights, and Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence, will be the featured speaker at the final Liberal rally Friday in the Royal Victoria Theatre.

Tonight all parties have meetings scheduled.

Mr. Mayhew will speak to the Ward Three Liberals at Liberal headquarters at 8, assisted by W. J. Asselstine, M.P.P., and Alan Chambers.

Mr. McKelvie will address a meeting at South Park School at 8, supported by L. H. Eyres, M.P.P., Robert D. Harvey, president of Victoria Conservative Association, and Bruce McKelburgh, president of the Junior Conservative Association.

Prof. Gordon will address a C.C.F. rally in the City Temple, aided by Dr. Lyle Telford, M.P.P., and M. J. Coldwell, M.P.

Saturday night Conservative party workers held a rally at the Conservative headquarters in support of Mr. McKelvie, who said the future of the Empire trade treaties was the main issue of the campaign.

Settlement Ends Duke's Libel Case

London Author and Publishers Pay for Mistakes in "Coronation Commentary"

LONDON (CP-Havas)—Settlement of the Duke of Windsor's libel action against the author and the publishers of "Coronation Commentary" was announced by the Duke's counsel, Sir William Jowitt, K.C., in the high court of justice today.

Under the terms of the settlement, the publishers of the book,

LONDON (CP)—Foreign Secretary Eden indicated in the House of Commons today that Great Britain would not grant Japan's demand for virtual control of Shanghai's International Settlement without the consent of the Chinese government.

An earlier dispatch today from London, written by George Hamilton of the Canadian Press read as follows:

Uneasiness grows over Japan's real intentions in China. The British government still is awaiting official advice on the drastic demands which the Japanese have made on the International Settlement authorities in Shanghai.

But already there is much poring over treaties to see exactly what British rights are affected. The demands in effect mean Japan regards herself as the de facto authority in control of the territory around Shanghai and she is determined to assert that authority.

To this end Japan proposes to exercise the sovereign rights and administrative functions in the International Settlement and the French Concession which the Chinese authorities previously exercised. These include control of customs, the post office, telegraphs and the courts.

The International Settlement is administered by a municipal council consisting of five British, two United States, two Japanese and five Chinese members. It was created under treaty with China. The French have a separate concession.

SHANGHAI (AP)—Japan is urging Gen. Chiang Keshik to surrender. A message was dropped to him Monday by Japanese airmen making their first flight over Nanking since the government announced its transfer from the capital to Chungking, about 1,000 miles farther inland.

No bombs were dropped—only the message urging cessation of hostilities. It was released from a plane flown by Lieut. Mochimichi Nango, one of Japan's ace pilots.

Japanese reported capture of Wushu, one of the last strongholds of China's Nanking defences.

The following day suit for libel was filed. Although withdrawn in Great Britain, the book was published in the United States and Canada.

After Lord Chief Justice Hewart had accepted his request that action be dropped in view of the settlement, Sir William Jowitt declared it was undeniable that the abdication of King Edward had given birth to many rumors. The fact, however, that these rumors had been repeated by persons as responsible and respectable as the defendants gave them a grave aspect.

ABDICATOR STORY

Referring to the chapter of the book entitled "Abdication," Sir William said the allegedly defamatory declarations contained therein were absolutely groundless. So untrue were the statements, he added, that the Duke had decided to start legal action not only to prove his falseness and to show that such statements cannot be made with impunity but also so that wrong reports of an important historical event could be denied.

He denied allegations that the real cause of King Edward's abdication was not his proposed marriage to Mrs. Wallis Simpson but a desire on the part of his ministers to get rid of him for other reasons.

The Duke's counsel said his client could have called on high-placed personages to prove this accusation untrue.

LIQUOR STORIES

Charges that King Edward sought to obtain more money by prolonging the abdication crisis and allegations he had recourse "to other sources of courage" also were denied by Sir William.

In regard to the latter report, counsel denied the sovereign had turned to liquor. Those who were near him at the time of the abdication were willing to testify to this effect, he added.

Lord Chief Justice Hewart, in agreeing to dismiss the action, declared he did so only with "reluctance" and "hesitation." He branded the defamatory rumors as "foul and cruel," deserving of a "thoroughly efficient horse-whipping."

Liberal Member Dies in Quebec

Joseph A. Verville, M.P. for Lotbiniere, Succumbs to Heart Disease

ST. FLAVIEN, Que.—Arrangements were being made today for the funeral of the late Joseph A. Verville.

The 50-year-old Liberal member of the House of Commons for Lotbiniere and a former mayor of St. Flavian died suddenly at his home here Saturday. Death was attributed to a heart ailment.

Born January 23, 1887, at Ste. Gertrude, Que., he was the son of Zephier Verville and his wife, the former Leontine Deschamps. He was educated at Nicolet College and graduated as a notary from Laval University, Quebec. He had sat in the Commons since 1925.

PARTY STANDING

OTTAWA (CP)—The death at St. Flavian, Que., of Joseph A. Verville, Liberal member for Lotbiniere, created the second vacancy in the House of Commons. The other is in Victoria, where a by-election will be held next Monday.

The standing: Liberals, 177; Conservatives, 39; Social Credit, 17; C.C.F., 7; Independent, 1; Reconstruction, 1; U.F.O., 1; vacant, 2. Total, 245.

"It is wrong to assume that such an agreement means the abandonment of the principle of interpretation," he declared in a statement to the press.

"Nothing was done at the Imperial Conference to justify the suggestion that the Dominions acquiesced in the scrapping of the preference system.

"The conference, however, recognized that the countries of the British Commonwealth depend on the world as a whole and that healthy growth of international trade is an essential step toward political appeasement.

"The forthcoming British-U.S. discussions are an all-important step in the pursuit of this high aim. In so far as the discussions affect the Ottawa agreements which involve difficulties to which Australia is very much alive."

encouraging and useful," the newspaper said. "It is in this direction indeed that lie the best prospects of maintaining European peace."

The newspaper added last week's announcement of formal negotiations between London and Washington suggested President Roosevelt was following the line of policy laid down in his Chicago speech.

COUNTER-MOVE

A "die-hard" Conservative group meanwhile opened an anticipated counter-offensive. A report published by the Imperial Economic Union, headed by former Dominions Secretary Leopold Amery, warned "renewed efforts are being made in some quarters to use the discussions now in progress for an Anglo-American trade agreement as an excuse for an indirect attempt to discredit and weaken the tried and proved national imperial policy."

The report, entitled "The Fiscal Situation Today," expressed the opposition of the Economic Union to any relaxation of imperial trade preferences and demanded "British agriculture be safeguarded from undue competition" in any revision of the Ottawa agreements.

CANBERRA (CP-Havas)—Australia "cannot be expected" to surrender her advantages in the British market without assurance of adequate compensation in other directions, Prime Minister Joseph Lyons declared today in connection with the proposed Anglo-American trade negotiations.

"It is wrong to assume that such an agreement means the abandonment of the principle of interpretation," he declared in a statement to the press.

"Nothing was done at the Imperial Conference to justify the suggestion that the Dominions acquiesced in the scrapping of the preference system.

No Conference Aid for China

Delegates at Brussels Draft Statement on Japanese-Chinese War

BRUSSELS (AP)—Viscount Cranborne of Great Britain and Norman H. Davis, United States ambassador at large, worked today on the draft of a new statement on the Japanese-Chinese conflict which may bring the Brussels Conference to a close. It was understood to include nothing that could be construed as effective aid to China.

Conference delegates virtually admitted none of the nations represented at the meeting was in a position to take effective action to halt the Japanese-Chinese conflict. They expressed doubt anything could be done to salvage some kind of aid for China despite appeals of Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese delegate, that the governments withhold war supplies and financial credits from Japan.

Dr. Koo expressed "bitter disappointment" over the drafted historical record, said it fell far short of what China had hoped for and added he must reserve his attitude at the afternoon meeting until he had time to consult the government.

He indicated one possible course for China would be to propose the whole affair be referred back to the advisory committee of the League of Nations. This afternoon's meeting was postponed two hours to give the French more time to consider the draft. No difficulty was anticipated from that quarter, but it was believed the conference might be prolonged a day or two as a result of Dr. Koo's statement that he must consult his government.

EDMONTON (CP)—Sir Herbert Wilkins' aerial search party left Fort Resolution, N.W.T., at 8 a.m., P.S.T. today, on the second leg of a flight to Akavik, according to a brief message received in Edmonton. The message did not state whether the big monoplane would stop at Fort Simpson or Fort Norman.

The monoplane, piloted by Air Commodore Herbert Hollick-Kenyon of Toronto, was grounded at Fort Resolution yesterday by poor flying conditions after making the 600-mile jaunt from Edmonton to that sub-Arctic post in 3 hours and 13 minutes.

Accompanying the search plane was a commercial machine carrying Al Cheeseman of Port Arthur, reserve pilot.

The Wilkins party is to search for the six Russian fliers.

Japanese land and air forces began a concerted drive against entrenched Chinese on a line north from Wushu to Kiangyan, on the Yangtze River. They were aided by fine weather after a week of rain.

Wushu, at the south end of the line west of Shanghai, controls important communication and supply lines on the Shanghai-Nanking railroad and China's ancient Grand Canal.

Japanese declared the drive would bring their troops to the gates of Nanking, China's evacuated capital, before the end of the week.

Faint prospects of a last-minute settlement were shattered by Yu Yu-jen, president of the national control Yuan, one of the five ruling councils of the central government. Yu declared China had absolutely no intention either to seek peace or to compromise with Japan.

He said there were two reasons for the government's refusal to negotiate with the Chinese.

1. To avoid a situation in which Japan might be in a position to dictate peace terms.

2. To demonstrate China's determination to continue resistance on a larger scale.

AT YELLOW RIVER

Dispatches from Peiping said Japanese forces in north China were preparing to cross the Yellow River at several points to attack Tsinanfu, capital of Shantung province, the only north China capital still unconquered by the Japanese.

Chinese pursuit planes attacked the Japanese fliers over Nanking today, engaging them in spectacular dogfights. One Chinese plane crashed.

The new Chinese fighting craft resembled their Japanese foe more than the types of Chinese planes until now. They were so new, apparently, that puzzled ground defences and siren operators mistook them for Japanese.

Cargo Delayed At Shanghai

Japanese Prevent British Ship Unloading and Incident Looms

SHANGHAI (AP)—The possibility of a new Japanese-British incident developed here today when Japanese naval authorities prevented the British steamship Kaying from unloading a rice shipment which originated at Saigon, French Indo-China, pending investigation of the cargo's status.

The Japanese said their understanding was that the cargo, imported under a military permit, was not paying duty and the consignee was the Central Trust of China, a Chinese government agency.

The cargo included 25,000 sacks of rice which it was understood authorities of the International Settlement planned to distribute among dealers, for sale at non-profit price, to refugee camps in Shanghai.

While Japanese troops pursued retreating Chinese toward Nanking, representatives of the Japanese government served strong demands on authorities of the International Settlement and the French Concession, including postal control.

French Pretender Issues Manifesto

Duc de Guise Planning to "Reconquer" Throne
Peacefully

PARIS (AP)—The Duc de Guise, pretender to the "throne of France," issued a manifesto distributed in Paris today announcing he had decided to "reconquer the throne of our fathers."

The 5,000-word manifesto left no doubt the pretender, now living in exile in Belgium, planned a peaceful conquest. It caused intense excitement among French Royalists.

The Duke's statement was in direct contrast to his last message to the nation, when he told them, in February, 1933, "dictatorship under a monarchy" was necessary.

"Have the moral courage not to abdicate before present difficulties," today's manifesto appealed to Frenchmen. "Do not permit, in a moment of abandon, dictatorship of any kind to impose itself."

Officials of the "Courrier Royal," of which the Count of Paris, son of the Duke of Guise, is editor-in-chief, said the statement was signed "Jean, Duc de Guise." Copies distributed in Paris, however, were not signed.

The bearded, six-foot Guise timed his manifesto to reach Paris during the excitement aroused by the police drive against a secret rightist revolutionary organization, "The Hooded Ones." Several suspects have been identified as Royalist sympathizers.

After referring to France's internal economic and political troubles and warning of dangers in Europe and the Far East, the manifesto asked if the French were "ready to renounce your liberties, your past and traditions."

The pretender's statement condemned Communism, Fascism, and the French parliamentary system. It said the only solution was a monarchy, under which the government would be decentralized and many powers would be returned to the provinces.

STANDS AT ZERO

Political observers viewed the pretender's chances of changing France into a monarchy as "practically zero." The royalists throughout the country were believed to number less than 50,000. The Surete Nationale, secret police, who already had arrested several royalists for participation in the National Revolutionary Committee, had no comment on the manifesto. Almost all Surete operatives in Paris and a large force in the province were working on the investigation.

COUNT ASKED TO LEAVE

GENEVA (AP)—The Count of Paris, exiled heir-apparent to the non-existent French throne, unexpectedly returned to Geneva today, police said. He had been asked by Swiss federal police to leave the country on the ground he was carrying on political activity.

The police stated the Count, son of the Duke of Guise, left for Belgium Sunday night, but changed his mind and came here.

They denied any formal expulsion order had been served on him, but, nevertheless, consulted federal authorities at Berne to determine what steps, if any, they should take to deal with the new situation.

"Lord Halifax, it would seem, was assured that the Berlin-Rome axis and the anti-Communist pact, with its extension to Italy, was not in any way directed against British interests. There is no more reason, therefore, for England to feel that the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo triangle impeded an Anglo-German understanding than for Germany to feel that the relations between London, Paris and Washington made an Anglo-German understanding impossible."

well-informed source disclosed that Chancellor Hitler last Friday told Viscount Halifax the German-Japanese-Italian triangle must be accepted as a factor in world affairs.

This first concrete indication of what Hitler and his guest discussed during their five-hour visit Friday came from the obscure press service "From Germany." Government spokesmen gave assurances this service was "usually right."

HITLER SPEAKS

AUGSBURG, Germany (AP)—Reichschancellor Hitler told a Nazi rally Sunday the colonies Germany lost at the end of the Great War were "our lost property and the world will have to return it."

"Foolish objections to our demands must be silenced," Hitler declared in a speech on the 15th anniversary of the establishment of the local Nazi organization.

ready to help, and right up until the last few days she was able to continue her active and thoughtful kindness towards all who needed her.

She was one of the first white women to visit the Stikine district, north of Prince Rupert, when she trekked through the northern wilderness with her sister and brother-in-law, Rev. R. Tomlinson, missionary to the Stikine Indians.

In 1882 she married John Andrew, for many years connected with the Hudson's Bay Company. He died in 1891.

Mrs. Andrew's father, Richard Woods, was registrar of the Supreme Court here for a number of years.

Mrs. Andrew is survived by one son, Richard, of New Westminster, B.C., and three daughters, Mrs. George T. Storey of Vancouver, Mrs. M. Kirkpatrick-Crockett, Victoria, and Mrs. George Wilson of Vancouver, and eight grandchildren. Her eldest son, Patrick Andrew, was killed in action at Warwilers in August, 1918.

Funeral services will be held at St. Matthias Church, Foul Bay, on Wednesday afternoon at 2.30, after which the remains will be laid at rest in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Paris Hears They Will Spend Christmas in Washington

PARIS (AP)—Reports are heard here the Duke and Duchess of Windsor will go to the United States in about a month and plan to spend Christmas in Washington with Mrs. D. B. Merriman, aunt of the Duchess.

Recently they canceled previous plans for a labor survey in the United States when labor organizations criticized their choice of Charles E. Bedaux, industrial efficiency engineer, as their guide. The Duchess has been anxious to bring her husband to the United States for Christmas and recent American comment was thought to have caused the Duke to reconsider.

U.S. WARPLANES BOUND TO CHINA

High Speed Bombers, on Way to Orient, Risk Spanish Patrols

NEW YORK (AP)—Bound on a mission of death, a $1,000,000 fleet of 19 United States-made planes was aboard a ship steaming cautiously somewhere across the Atlantic today.

Their ultimate destination presumably was China, and aviation experts said the planes had a sufficient flying range to hop the Yellow Sea to Japan, each carrying half-ton bomb loads, and return to Chinese bases. They are faster than the swiftest Japanese warplanes.

A spokesman for the Chinese consulate in New York admitted the planes had been purchased by the Chinese government. But a double peril faced the consignment.

Lying in wait, naval patrols from both Japan and Spain formed twin blockades against their safe arrival. Spanish insurgents reportedly feared the high-powered fighting craft might be headed for Barcelona to be used by government pilots.

Their fears were based on the report the crates containing the airplanes were marked "D.L.P."—the initials of Don Luis Prieto, son of the Spanish government Minister of Defence.

The Chinese consulate here denied, however, the planes had been resold to the Spanish government.

"They still belong to China," a spokesman said.

W. M. Unger, K.C., Dies in Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—The late William Michael Unger will be buried Tuesday in Notre Dame cemetery here. The 42-year-old lawyer, prominent in Ottawa's legal and political circles, collapsed Saturday while watching the Ottawa Rough Riders-Toronto Argonauts Big Four football game. His death was attributed to a heart seizure. He was a King's Counsel.

MOTORIST LOSSES LIFE

ANTELPE, Sask. (CP)—His hearing and view impaired by a howling, blustery blizzard, W. C. Johnson, 55, of Moose Jaw, was killed near here Sunday when his automobile was struck by a westbound Canadian-Pacific passenger train. Antelope is 200 miles west of Regina.

SOVIET PLANES FLY TO CHINA

General Chiang Receives 50 at Base 1,000 Miles Inland in Kansu Province

SHANGHAI (AP)—It was learned authoritatively Monday that more than 50 Soviet-made fighting planes have been flown into China from Russia in the past two weeks.

The planes were reported based at Lanchow, capital of Kansu province, about 1,000 miles in the interior. They have already been turned over to the Chinese authorities.

Great significance was attached to the arrival of the planes, which coincided with a reported decision of Russia to abandon further material support of the Spanish government in Spain's civil war and to use the Trans-Siberian Railroad exclusively for the transportation of military supplies.

It was believed General Chiang Kai-shek, head of the Chinese government and army, intends to use the machines to strengthen China's weakened air force.

Informed sources in London said Saturday the Soviet Union, preoccupied by domestic affairs and by the Japanese threat in the Far East, and hampered by the Spanish insurgent blockade in the Mediterranean Sea, had been unable for two months to give effective aid to the Spanish government in the civil war.

Insurgents have concentrated 49 warships in the Mediterranean to watch and stop movements of war supplies to Spanish government ports along that coast. They are reported to have seriously reduced the flow of arms to the Barcelona regime.

Russian sources in London said, however, the Moscow government had not definitely abandoned support of the Spanish government.

Roosevelt Plans Building Boost

Stimulation of Private Construction Is Part of New Programme

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt, informed officials said today, may send to the United States Congress this week some suggestions for stimulating private building.

He is understood to have considered several proposals for handling this phase of the programme to check the business recession.

One was reported to be authorization for loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to mortgage companies organized to furnish capital for large scale housing projects. The RFC would match dollar-for-dollar funds put up by private capital.

Another was an increase in the percentage of the cost of a small home which may be financed through a mortgage insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

Death Sentence Of Youth Commuted

OTTAWA (CP)—William Labadie, 17-year-old boy from Sarnia, Ont., under sentence to be hanged December 15 for the murder of John Lickins, seven-year-old son of his employer, will spend the rest of his life in jail. It was announced Saturday the death sentence had been commuted to life imprisonment by the government on the recommendation of Justice Minister Lapointe.

Rev. A. J. MacIntyre, Charlottetown, Dies

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—Rev. Angus J. MacIntyre, Roman Catholic priest called by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett "God's good old man" and known as "the children's friend," died in hospital here Sunday. He was 80.

His devotion to the sick in the 1885 smallpox epidemic in Prince Edward Island, which took 56 lives in Charlottetown alone, won him love and admiration.

Empire Pacts To Be Debated

Vancouver Board of Trade Will Discuss Canadian-British Exchange

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Board of Trade on Wednesday will submit a motion to its members protesting any withdrawal of benefits British Columbia now enjoys from the Empire trade agreements.

"There exists no little concern in the minds of business men in Vancouver and British Columbia in regard to the present Empire agreements," W. M. Carson, board president, said in a statement at the week end. "With so much depending on their maintenance at the present levels, any reductions would have an exceedingly serious effect on our primary industries."

"The Ottawa agreements have meant everything to British Columbia. Lumber, fish, fruit and many other of our primary and semi-primary products are enjoying the benefits," the statement continued. "Any disturbance in the present satisfactory relations will undoubtedly prove extremely serious to this part of Canada."

Alberta Man Victim of Fire

DRUMHELLER, Alta. (CP)—The charred body of Joseph Davis, 40-year-old miner, was found Sunday by a young boy, five hours after the one-story house in which he boarded had been reduced to ashes.

Mrs. Kerzia Wallace, who owned the house, was away on a visit, but her collie dog was also burned to death. No search of the ashes was made immediately because neighbors thought the house vacant. They understood Davis was at work.

PASTORS IN JAIL

BERLIN (CP-Havas)—At least 117 pastors and members of the confessional church are still in German prisons, Pastor Roerich declared Sunday from the pulpit of a church in suburban Dahlem, which he took over after the arrest of Rev. Martin Niemöller.

City Admired For Refunding

Life Insurance Head Impressed With Conditions in Western Canada

The city should be congratulated on the success of its refunding arrangement with its bondholders, in the opinion of Victor Smith, Toronto, general manager of the Confederation Life Insurance Association, who spent the week-end in Victoria.

Mr. Smith registered at the Empress Hotel Saturday on his first visit to Victoria in 12 years, and was enthusiastic over what he had seen of business conditions in British Columbia.

With the possible exception of Saskatchewan, the whole of Canada had seen a great business improvement in the last year, he said. Even in Alberta things were much better, with a good crop in the western section of the province and the boom in the Turner Valley having a marked effect on trade in Edmonton and Calgary.

One of the things most needed by Canadians was a new and broader perspective in their views to accompany the tremendous strides made in the Dominion in the last 25 years, he said.

"We should look forward to the great advance we shall certainly make in the next quarter of a century," he said.

He described Victoria as "a paradise and a garden city" and was impressed with the commercial future of Vancouver.

Mr. Smith, who hopes to return here in August, 1938, for the convention of the provincial superintendents of insurance, was to leave today for Vancouver on his way back to Toronto.

Japan Aggression Seen Widening

Dr. H. C. Tao of Nanking University Addresses Toronto Audience

TORONTO (CP)—Japanese aggression would not halt with the conquest of North China, Dr. H. C. Tao, professor at North-eastern University, Nanking, said in an address to the Canadian Congress for Peace and Democracy here Sunday.

"She has to make her conquest so vast, so glaring that people at home will endure the hardships caused by the militaristic government," he said. If the North China conquest could be completed, Japan would attempt to subject the whole of China and then other parts of Asia.

The Japanese people did not support their government's war policy, because it increased taxation, and they already suffered from low wages and high cost of living, he said.

Resolutions have been drafted by the congress asking the Canadian government to prevent the export to Japan of minerals used for ammunition manufacture and urging Canadians to boycott Japanese goods.

Change in School Taxation Urged

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—The West Kootenay and Boundary Central Farmers' Institute today was on record in favor of a revised system of school taxation and provincial health insurance.

Meeting in semi-annual convention here Saturday, delegates adopted a resolution recommending to the British Columbia government school maintenance responsibility be regarded as resting equally on all classes of the population. The resolution, submitted from the Creston, B.C., branch, urged "a just revision of the present system of school taxation."

Debating health insurance, delegates referred to locally-instituted health insurance schemes adopted by several British Columbia hospitals, and asked the government to investigate possibilities of expanding them.

Two Men in Hospital After Auto Accident

POWELL RIVER, B.C. (CP)—Two men were in the hospital here today, one in a critical condition, with injuries suffered Saturday night when their automobile swerved from the road a half mile south of here, struck a stump and turned over. A third man was less seriously injured.

Jack Woodward, said to have been the driver of the automobile, suffered cuts about the head and concussion, and is believed seriously hurt. George Hull, received cuts on the head and leg. Eric Evans, the other passenger, suffered cuts, but was allowed to go home Sunday.

"Tobacco Road" Nears Fifth Year

NEW YORK (CP)—"Tobacco Road," Jack Kirkland's opus of the Georgia sharecroppers, will reach its 1,700th performance tonight and on December 4 will celebrate the beginning of its fifth year.

Three members of the original company remain in the play. They are Ruth Hunter, Edwin Walter and Ashley Cooper.

New Orleans Bars "Tobacco Road"

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A dozen actors arrived here today, ready to step into their parts in "Tobacco Road" or into police patrol wagons.

The city council has banned Jack Kirkland's dramatization of Erskine Caldwell's novel dealing with "poor whites" in Georgia. Superintendent of Police George Rye said: "If they try to open, we'll put 'em in jail."

Carlton Miles, executive representative of Tobacco Road Inc., said: "We're going ahead with the opening, that's all."

Chicago was the only other city to ban the play, which will start its fifth year in New York December 4. Chicago closed the play after seven weeks.

Winnipeg Press Club Sends $50 to Body in Montreal

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Winnipeg Press Club, in annual meeting Saturday night, voted $50 to be sent to the Civil Liberties Union of Montreal to assist in its opposition to Quebec's "padlock" law.

The action followed a report of the "freedom of the press" committee detailing alleged threats to press freedom during the past year in Quebec and Alberta. Recent padlocking of the newspaper La Clarite in Montreal was referred to as an example of the "padlock" law.

Storm Losses In Nova Scotia

Man Drowned When Torrential Rain Undermines Street in Antigonish

HALIFAX (CP)—Loss of one life and damage estimated at several thousand dollars were attributed Sunday evening to torrential rains which fell generally over Nova Scotia Friday and Saturday. High winds accompanied the rain in many places. At Antigonish Leslie Pelly, 44, drowned when a section of a street, undermined by a rising river, collapsed and threw him into a canal.

A 40-mile gale accompanied the rain in Cape Breton. Cellars were flooded, chimneys toppled and trees were uprooted.

At North Sydney an unoccupied building was blown down. A smaller structure at New Waterford was overturned. Highways near Truro were submerged, partly because of swollen rivers and partly because of extremely high Bay of Fundy tides. Dikes were damaged.

Dr. M. R. Blake of Winnipeg Dies

WINNIPEG (CP)—Dr. M. R. Blake, former Unionist member of Parliament for North Winnipeg, and for many years prominent here as a physician, died Sunday aged 61. He was elected to the House of Commons in 1917, but was defeated in the 1921 election.

Halifax and Hitler

IT IS UNDERSTOOD FROM A USUALLY well-informed source that Viscount Halifax has come away from the German capital with an intimation from Hitler that the tripartite pact between Japan, Germany, and Italy would have to be accepted as a factor in world affairs.

In this connection the German Press Service—which is described as "usually right"—is credited with the view that the lengthy chat last Friday between Halifax and Hitler was largely taken up with a "frank and trustful" examination of the reasons for the present international difficulties and misunderstanding, with the Reichschancellor emphasizing Germany's will to peace, a somewhat hackneyed Teuton declaration.

Seasoned Associated Press commentators see in the series of discussions between Viscount Halifax and Herr Hitler a designed attempt to thaw out previous coldness to the cherished British scheme of a general European settlement, and that official overtures were expected to follow the more complete British understanding of Hitler's objectives as related to Halifax and interpreted by him for cabinet study.

What Germany is scheming to do, of course, is to get Britain out in the open on the colonial problem. It is plainly one problem that will have to be dealt with sooner or later, even though the British government, or the British people, may not work itself up into a frenzy as it contemplates the implication that a Germany tied to Italy and Japan can force action on this or any other of the difficult and delicate situations with which Europe is faced at the present time.

Nor must it be supposed that public opinion in Britain is by any means unanimous about the retention of former territory which the Treaty of Versailles wrested from Germany. The London Times, if not advocating a complete reversal of the official stand and the softening of the parliamentary attitude on this question, was recently outspoken in its belief that some arrangement calculated to appease Germany's temper ought to be reached. Whatever Britain may wish to do in this respect, of course, will to no small extent be determined by the desires of France. Mussolini already has proclaimed his belief that Germany should be given back her "place in the sun." Is Italy ready to give back the booty she got out of the Treaty of Versailles?

Speaking generally, however, the world is facing—and especially Great Britain and her neighbors across the North Sea—a set of circumstances altogether different from those which produced the atmosphere that gave birth to the Treaty of Versailles. All that remains of that important document, or the part of it which still operates, is that withholding from Germany territory formerly belonging to her. Added to this is Germany's damaged prestige for which the alienation of her colonies is responsible.

Out For Business Too

IT IS TRUE THAT CANADA'S SALES TO the United Kingdom in the last 12 months had grown in value to within $87,000,000 of their value in 1926 and within $25,000,000 of that of 1927; but it is also true that our purchases from the United Kingdom in the last year are about $22,000,000 less than the aggregate in both years 1926 and 1927.

This is only part of the story. In four years—1925 to 1928 inclusive—Canada sold to the United Kingdom goods to the value of $1,761,400,000 and bought $663,000,000 worth. There were no Ottawa pacts in those days; it was the Laurier British Preference. In the four years—1929 to 1936 inclusive—Canada sold to the United Kingdom goods to the value of $1,085,100,000 and bought $420,000,000 worth. For the eight years quoted the balance in favor of Canada, out of a total trade worth $3,930,400,000, was no less than $1,762,600,000.

These are the official figures and they ought to suggest to those local "bulwarks of empire" who will persist in waving the flag that the United Kingdom is getting very much the worst of the exchange. The latest available statistics show that the last year's turnover had a three-to-one value against Britain.

We mention these facts because it will not be surprising if Britain, in her dealings with the United States for a new trade agreement, contemplates that market of 130,000,000 with, perhaps, a little more enthusiasm than she does the Canadian market, in which she sold in the last 12 months less than $30,000,000 worth of goods to put against her own purchases from us of $85,000,000 worth.

Granted, it is for Canada to hang on to this one-sided bargain if she can, but the flag, in view of the circumstances, ought not to be trotted out so often. "Consistency, thou art..." etc.

Too often has college turned out to be a place where one may spend four years getting educated in order to peddle brushes for a fellow who quit in the sixth grade.

An "If" In Shanghai

THE PROFOUND EFFECT WHICH JAPANESE victory in China might have on the complicated network of European imperialism in the Orient is indicated by announcement that the Japanese may take over the International Settlement at Shanghai.

This warning comes from Lieut.-Gen. Iwane Matsui, commander of the Japanese forces on the Shanghai front. So far, it is only a warning; what gives it point is the perfectly obvious fact that if the Japanese do decide to take over the International city, the white powers have no way of stopping them.

Such a development would completely change the picture of European exploitation of China. The great British investments in China, the vast structure of British trade with China—both are keyed largely to British sovereignty at Shanghai. Make Shanghai a completely Japanese-ruled city, and the effect on British investments and British trade, as on the investments and trade of other European powers, would be profound.

No Score

SPEAKING OF GETTING THINGS FROM Ottawa for Victoria, the Conservative candidate in the present by-election campaign, with party pride points out that during the last Bennett regime the late-Mr. Plunkett, as member for Victoria, actually got so far as having a sketch plan for a federal building here prepared and published in the press.

But the only trouble is that all Victoria ever got was the plan. During the remainder of Mr. Bennett's tenure of office, Mr. Plunkett's friends at Ottawa calmly ignored his claim for a building and the fact that he had announced it here. Meanwhile, Ottawa went ahead with building and other undertakings on the mainland.

Mr. Plunkett had to face criticism within his own party for his failure to induce his friends to implement his building promises after getting Victoria keyed up over them. Conservatives and readers of the press of that time can recall how this let-down of Victoria by the Conservative government at Ottawa was one of the items Mr. Plunkett had to combat within his own party here before his renomination in 1935.

So, to the Conservative candidate we must say no score for his party on the federal building which never got beyond a publicity plan.

More Lucid Than Diplomacy

BARON ERIK KULE PALMSTIERNA, Swedish Minister to London since 1920, has decided to abandon his diplomatic career and devote himself exclusively to the study of spiritualism.

Could there be, The New York Post asks, a more appropriate capstone to a diplomatic career? Indeed, it is a wonder that more diplomats do not succumb earlier to the lure of table-tapping, tumbler-pushing and ouija-board riding.

After years of hearing the ambiguities of fellow diplomats, these equivocal messages from beyond the spheres must seem as direct and lucid as the multiplication table.

Notes

There is a time in every man's life when he can buy stocks cheap. And then he can't raise a dollar.

The objective of these government stock exchange regulating bureaus seem to be to enable one to go broke in a nice ethical market instead of a wicked one.

IF LEGISLATORS COULD ONLY PRODUCE A PERPETUAL BULL MARKET

From The Wall Street Journal
 Senator Barkley's proposal that the Securities and Exchange Commission investigate the causes of the recent decline in stock market prices and find a remedy, if one is necessary, expresses a very natural state of mind which is shared, no doubt, by many people.

Of what use is it to have a Securities and Exchange Commission if it does not make the stock market "safe for democracy"?

Is it not the unalienable right of the citizen to speculate in stocks and do it profitably? Of course it is. Now how can he do it unless the risks of the market are eliminated? Was it not for that purpose that we passed the act creating the commission?

After all, the task is a simple one. All that is necessary is to establish a perpetual bull market in which prices will never go down. That should not be a difficult job in these days of expansive budgets. It is true that when somebody buys stocks, somebody sells stocks; and if prices always rise, the seller at any time is necessarily disadvantaged. That, however, is merely a technical detail which might be overcome by, for instance, a processing tax on all stock sales large enough to compensate sellers after prices rise beyond the point at which they sold. Thus, both buyer and seller would be placed upon an economic equality and kept there throughout the bull market. But even if that would not work out, some other way should be found.

In all such matters, principle is everything and the principle is clear in this case. Let the Securities and Exchange Commission be instructed by Congress to apply it, and let Congress delegate to the commission the necessary powers.

The logic that demands that everyone shall succeed in competition with everyone else—especially the little man in competition with the big man—that demands low prices for what we consume and liberal prices for what we sell, high wages for labor and fair profit for capital, surely supports the demand for a perpetual bull market.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

HORRID NEWS

SOMEbody ought to stop these fellows on the radio who interrupt a perfectly good musical programme, and spoil your whole evening, by announcing that there are only 30 odd shopping days to Christmas. Nobody believes it. Nobody wants to know it. Everybody instinctively denies it to himself and tries to avoid it. Mostly people are successful for quite a while. The nasty idea won't percolate thoroughly into the public consciousness until the middle of December, when it is too late to do anything about it.

The wise man will keep it out of mind as long as he can, deny it to the last and thus make the horror of Christmas as brief as possible. For the obvious fact about Christmas nowadays is that it is a nightmare to 90 per cent at least of the adult population over 20 years of age. It is getting worse every year. It is getting so that they remind you of its approach in mid-autumn and soon you will begin to have it thrust under your nose in midsummer. If they don't watch out, the worm will turn one of these days. Santa Claus will conduct a sit-down strike and tell what he really thinks about Christmas.

INDIAN SHACKS

A STRANGER examining the seat of government of British Columbia would find it interesting; not alone in the intellectual sense, but in the architectural. If you want to see the other side of the seat of government, take a stroll along Superior Street, behind the Parliament Buildings. There on the green lawns of Parliament you will find the most amazing huddle of shacks clustered together like the Indian houses of Alert Bay or Kispiox. All that is needed to complete the illusion is a row of totem poles. But it is said that humans inhabit these hovels. Even officials of the government, holding responsible positions, "crawl in and out of them like mice into their holes. Some—the buildings I mean—are of early Victorian brick baroque, some mid-Georgian shingle, and some pre-Confederation chaos. The front of the Parliament Buildings is a fine though rather fulsome dream in granite, but the back yard is a slum. I wonder if the time will ever come when we can clear this rubbish away so that tourists and residents may be permitted to go around to the back door? By the time the Indian shacks are removed, the main building will probably have crumbled to dust.

TODAY'S CHEER

MR. ROCKWELL KENT, the distinguished American artist, has just completed, and Life has published, a series of pictures depicting what is going to happen to the world one of these days. The first picture shows the moon going berserk and staggering drunkenly out of its place in the scheme of things.

The next picture shows it rushing towards the earth and then, pulled by opposite forces of gravity, spitting into pieces.

The third picture shows how the sudden pull of this huge new force near by drags everything off the earth's surface. Sky-scrapers suddenly shoot up into the heavens, people find themselves sucked through space like spiders going down a drain.

And finally, the earth breaks up like the moon and the various pieces are seared by the sun until all life dies.

This may happen at any moment, according to the astronomers who gave Mr. Kent his scientific facts, and if it doesn't happen, then the world will grow gradually colder, and Mr. Kent shows the human family burrowing underground, living in subterranean cities on synthetic mineral food until all finally starve to death.

It would be a good thing if everyone could have copies of Mr. Kent's pictures on the wall of his living-room where he would look at them several times a day. It would be useful if the pictures could be kept constantly before the eyes of parliaments and legislatures which wrangle day and night about such things as sinking funds, debts and the P.G.E. For if people remembered these larger problems and dangers they wouldn't worry so much about the little troubles of the human family. They might get together and enjoy the world while there is yet time, instead of fighting like ants in a sinking log, on the face of a doomed planet.

Next time you are worried by rumors of war, tax collectors, by-elections, and the other ills that flesh is heir to, remember that they don't amount to much compared with the really big time ahead of us. You can stand almost anything, even the present state of society, if you will only remember what your posterity is going to be up against. I mean, even the Legislature and by-elections aren't bad compared with the complete destruction of the earth, now assured. This is comforting, is it not?

SCIENTIFIC NOTE

THE FOLLOWING is offered as an original contribution to the findings of modern medical science:

"You know," said the little boy from next door, "my Aunt Elizabeth can blow them now. Smoke rings, I mean. She wasn't very good at blowing smoke rings last year, but that was on account of she hadn't got her tonsils out of her. I guess they got in the way of the smoke rings. But boy, you should see them now. I mean the rings. The tonsils used to make little nicks in the side of the rings, but now they're gone so there are no nicks in the rings any more and, boy, she's proud, though, my Aunt Elizabeth is, because she can blow 'em now as good as her boy friend."

HIS FAVORITE CLASSIC

From New York Post

Modern Age Library, in its new publishing campaign, mailed a questionnaire to 20,000 people throughout the country, asking whether the recipient prefers reprints of the Classics or of recent books—and to specify what books, in either group. One reply came from Frisco. It read: "I'd prefer it if you would reprint Classics, by all means. And of the Classics, why not reprint the complete works of that masterful writer, William Saroyan." It was signed—William Saroyan.

Science Makes a Cat Act

From The Chicago Daily News
 AT VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY an experimenter made a cat do what it did not want to do.

For an electrical device deposited small hairlike electrodes on a spot exactly midway between the two sides of the feline cerebellum. All at once the innocent victim elevated both front legs and sat on its haunches. Next it stuck its tail straight up in the air, lifted both front legs and tried to stand on its forepaws.

No self-respecting cat—and they are all self-respecting—would commit so preposterous an action by its own will. Unlike men and dogs, the cat never makes one move except to gain a definite satisfaction—there must be a mouse or a salmon steak in it, or else it simply is no go.

What does science hope to accomplish by trying to meddle with a creature which cannot be improved? Rightly the cat knows itself as the greatest fighting machine and the most beautiful work of art in the world. Serenely to move within that charmed circle of perfection is the cat's personal and historic mission, and not all the scientists in the world are going to tell it any different. Despite abuse and laboratory experiments the lord of the housetop will continue to cast ironic glances upon the busy-body man.

CANADA STILL A COLONY?

From R. T. ELLIOTT, K.C.

THE COMING OF THE Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett to Victoria brings this opportunity to ask him for an answer to the two questions following:

The first question is did the Statute of Westminster, passed by the Imperial Parliament of Great Britain, 1931, Chapter 4, ever come into force in Canada?

To enable the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett to answer this question, Sections 1 and 2 and Section 7 of the Statute of Westminster are here set forth in parallel columns:

1. In this Act the expression "Dominion" means any of the following Dominions, that is to say, the Dominion of Canada, the Dominion of Australia, the Dominion of New Zealand, the Union of South Africa, the Irish Free State and Newfoundland.

2. (1) The Colonial Laws Validity Act, 1865, shall not apply to any law made after the commencement of this Act by the Parliament of a Dominion.

(2) No law and no provision of any law made after the commencement of this Act by the Parliament of a Dominion shall be void or inoperative on the ground that it is repugnant to the law of England, or to the provisions of any existing or future Act of Parliament of the United Kingdom, or to any order, rule or regulation made under any such act, and the powers of the Parliament of a Dominion shall include the power to repeal or amend any such act, order, rule or regulation in so far as the same is part of the law of the Dominion.

The decision of the Privy Council in the case of Moore vs. Attorney-General of Irish Free State (1935) Appeal Cases 484, establishes that the Statute of Westminster, 1931, affects a vital amendment of or alteration in the constitution of any Dominion to which that Statute of Westminster applies. Then Section 7, which says that nothing in the Statute of Westminster shall be deemed to apply "to the repeal, amendment or alteration" of the B.N.A. Act, shuts the Statute of Westminster out of Canada, unless some wisdom can be brought down from the higher ether breathed by the great and mighty to demonstrate that words say one thing and mean another.

The second question is: What became of the power to veto either Dominion or provincial acts when the Statute of Westminster was passed?

As a help in answering this question, Sections 55 and 90 of the B.N.A. Act are here set out in parallel columns:

55. Where a bill passed by the House of the Parliament is presented to the Governor-General for the Queen's assent, he shall declare, according to his discretion, but subject to the provisions of this Act and to Her Majesty's instructions, either that he assents thereto in the Queen's name, or that he withholds the Queen's assent, or that he reserves the bill for the consideration of the Queen's pleasure.

90. The following provisions of this Act respecting the Parliament of Canada, namely: The provisions relating to Appropriation and Tax Bills, the recommendation of money votes, the assent to bills, the disallowance of Acts, and the significance of pleasure apply to the legislatures of the several provinces as if those provisions were here re-enacted and made applicable in terms to the respective provinces and the legislatures thereof.

Now should it be held that the Statute of Westminster is in force in Canada, then on the authority of the Irish Free State case referred to above, Section 55 of the B.N.A. Act is gone with the wind—no power being reserved to veto acts of the Dominion Parliament.

Also, by Section 7 of the Statute of Westminster, there is definite provision that in dealing with provincial matters, a provincial legislature is on the same plane as the Parliament of Canada.

Again there is need for wisdom from the higher ether to demonstrate that words say one thing and mean another.

One feels certain that Mr. Bennett will hear this appeal and come to the rescue, because he would not like to have us strutting around as citizens of an independent nation, should we, in reality, be taxpayers in a colony.

Better English

By D. C. WILLIAMS

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "We drove a distance of 50 miles."
 2. What is the correct pronunciation of "Marconi"?
 3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Opaque, opossum, optometry.
 4. What does the word "squalid" mean?
 5. What is a word beginning with "at" that means "explication; amends"?

ANSWERS

1. Merely say, "We drove 50 miles." A distance of is superfluous. 2. Pronounce mar-ko-ne, as in ah, o as in no, e as in me unstressed, accent second syllable. 3. Opaque. 4. Dirty through neglect. "The family lived in squalid surroundings." 5. Atoneament.

THE MACDONALD REPORT

To the Editor:—Doubtless the majority of your readers have learned from the findings of the Macdonald Commission that a condition they have long suspected exists, and that we have been paying 28 to 30 cents per gallon for gasoline which the commission, after long and careful consideration, states should cost only 18 cents, and that coal which in the past has cost us $10 to $12 per ton, could be retailed at $6, allowing a fair profit to the seller.

These conclusions, as set out in the report, have cost the taxpayers of B.C. the sum of over $100,000 for the report alone, to say nothing of the millions we have overpaid to the oil and coal companies.

Now is it not a pertinent question to ask the owners of automobiles, and those who burn coal: "What are you going to do about it?" and "What is the government going to do about it?" It would be a safe bet that nothing will be done about it, either by the people or the government.

Why? Simply because we, the common people, have become accustomed to be victims of just such practices or are so indifferent to our own interests that we stand aside and expect the government or some other fellow to fight our battles. Instead of doing the fighting ourselves. Or is it because we have become so used to being robbed that we take it lying down or as a matter of course?

It is useless to expect the government, after making the taxpayers shell out $100,000, to do anything but pigeonhole the report, to be considered, not at this session, when a matter of such importance should take precedence, but at some future time, maybe next session, but more likely never!

We are at present in the throes of an election. Would it not be more to the point if these men who are asking us to allow them to represent us, would come out and squarely state that if elected, they would take up this and matters of a like nature and do all in their power to get us justice, instead of talking about preferential tariffs and things they know little or nothing about? It would be a sanguine man who would expect such a common-sense course to be adopted. These purveyors of gasoline all have votes; these coal barons probably subscribe to the campaign funds.

What chance has the owner of an automobile or a consumer of coal against such a gang? Not a dog's chance, so long as we stay silent and allow ourselves to be the victims of such nefarious practices. Is it not time that some action should be taken? If a hungry man steals a loaf of bread he is sent to jail, but if a powerful corporation controlling votes and spending money to further their interests is found guilty of overcharging, nothing is done.

I realize that it is, at present, a waste of time to point out these facts, but it is not astonishing that discontent and discord are growing alarmingly, and a day of reckoning may be at hand when our representatives will receive their desserts. In my humble opinion it cannot be too soon.

The year's report indicates the association has pressed into many new districts otherwise un-reached by organized churches, despite many difficulties.

Bases have been formed this year, not the least interesting of which is the pioneer hospital at Ceepeece. Surrounded by mining and fish camps, as well as logging and other industries, the little buildings have been erected one mile to the west of Ceepeece. Assisted by Bernice Weller and Ruth Portway as nurses, and Harold Shannon, caretaker, Dr. A. McLean has struggled against and overcome tremendous odds, performing delicate operations aboard the Messenger II, as well as in the operating room, with only meagre equipment at hand. Reports will be given on the children's work, waterfront and literature sections, as well as the financial statement for 1937.

A Christmas hamper is being prepared for the hospital and shanties, and all donations will

VANCOUVER IN TIE FOR LEAD

Defeats Spokane 2 to 1 to Move Up in Coast Hockey League

SPOKANE, Wash.—Vancouver Lions and Spokane Clippers today headed for the Canadian home ice and tonight will battle for undisputed top place in the Coast Hockey League standings. Already tied at the top with Portland Buckaroos, Lions can take sole possession of the top rung with a win, or even a draw. They drew an even terms with the Bucs when they nosed out Clippers, 2 to 1, here last night.

A victory will pop Clippers into the lead and a draw will create a three-way tie—Clippers, Lions and Buckaroos.

Lude Palm engineered Vancouver's opening score last night, slipping a goalmouth pass that Mory Rimstad poked into the Clippers' net while their goalie, Sam Timmins, sprawled on the ice with his defence out of position. Rimstad shot home the goal a scant second before the end of the middle period.

Just under the eight-minute mark of the final frame, Owen Lennon grabbed the puck near mid-ice, on a Clipper raid, dodged a lone Spokane defenceman and shot it home.

Connie King saved Clippers from a whitewashing, counting on Louis Holmes' pass five minutes later.

SUMMARY

First period—No scoring. Penalties: Proudlock.
Second period—1, Vancouver, Rimstad (Palm), 18.59. Penalties: Pringle, Hutton, Gilhooly.
Third period—2, Vancouver, Lennon 7:56; 3, Spokane, King (Holmes), 12:47. Penalties: None.

DUNCAN—Mary James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack James, Cowichan, won first prize in the annual maple leaf competition, held jointly by the Canadian Travel Bureau, Canadian Pacific Railway and Canadian National Railways. She sent in a leaf 21x22 inches and surface area of 284.3 square inches, the biggest leaf ever entered. Vancouver Island was well represented among the prizewinners. Wallace Gourlay, Ladysmith, was second with a leaf of 259.1 square inches. More than 4,000 leaves from all parts of Canada were entered in the competition.

The extension programme of street lighting which the city electrician, M. Hutchison, is carrying out, is admirable not only from the point of view of comprehensiveness, but effectiveness as well.

Forty freight cars have been ordered for the interurban line of the B.C.E. Railway, to run through the Saanich Peninsula to Deep Cove.

Building permits issued this morning included the permit for the new high school for $416,750, the resolution forbidding this being done having been expunged from the City Council minutes. The amount is composed of $395,000 for the school, $19,750 for the architect's fees, and the balance of $2,000 for the clerk of the works. Dinsdale and Malcolm are the contractors and C. Elwood Watkins the architect.

There are now five centres of manual training under the Victoria School Board. The largest centre is that of the Central School, where the average attendance is reported as 411. The North Ward branch has 218 pupils in attendance. South Park centre, opened last year, has 209 pupils. At the George Jay School, another addition last year, there are 198 boys taught, and the other centre is Victoria West, where the attendance is 117.

Fellowship Tea Held At "Y"

That "peace begins with the individual" was among the points emphasized by Miss Enid Cole in her talk yesterday afternoon in the Y.W.C.A. recreation room. The afternoon was devoted to a World Fellowship service and tea, arranged by the girls' department.

Miss Cole addressed her talk to the women and mothers of today and the women and mothers of tomorrow. She said: "Peace is something clear and deep, buried in our breasts. We are caught in a system where everyone is wishing for peace and preparing for war. However imperfect the League of Nations may seem, it is the first endeavor towards unity. Co-operation brings out the best in men and women. We are one family, and the sooner we get to know that the better. If we want peace we can have it, but it depends on how much we want it. We can get it through co-operation and unity. Let us join together and look for the northwest passage to a happier and better world."

"Another Point of View," a short play in one scene, opened the programme. A knowledge of the people of other lands as the first step toward understanding between nations was the theme. Nora Williams, Mary McDonald and Frances Wood took the part of three club girls, and convincingly carried the play to its climax.

A series of pictures presenting Y.W.C.A. activities throughout the world was given in a short broadcast programme.

Miss Catherine Dennison contributed two sacred solos, accompanied by Miss Margaret Pringle. "Jesus Shall Reign Where'er the Sun" and "All People that on Earth Do Dwell" were the hymns chosen to carry out the international theme.

A national motive was used on each of the six club tea tables. A globe and dolls in national costume centred the council table around which the club tables were grouped.

Mrs. John Baxter, first vice-president of the board of directors, and Mrs. Richard Felton, convener of the girls' work committee, presided at the tea urns. Miss Elsie Peters, president of the "Y" Girls' Council, presided during the programme and acted as hostess for the tea hour. The girls entertained their mothers and friends as guests. Other guests included Mrs. John Baxter, Mrs. Richard Felton, Mrs. E. W. Hetherington, Mrs. E. A. Gibbs, Mrs. R. Wallace, Mrs. Walter Walker, Mrs. W. G. Graham, Miss Minnie Beveridge and Miss Evelyn Clark.

The assistance of the club leaders, Mrs. Kenneth Wright, Miss Muriel Johnson and Miss Blanch Atwood, was greatly appreciated by the girls.

At the close of the tea hour the many guests congratulated the girls' conveners throughout the department on the success of the afternoon.

B.C. Woman Heads W.I. Body

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. H. McGregor of Penticton, B.C., was elected president of the Canadian Federation of Women's Institutes in biennial convention here today. She is president of the British Columbia Women's Institutes.

The majority of Canadian women "are not alive to their responsibilities as citizens" nor are they interested in the national or international problems which beset the Dominion's various governmental bodies, in the opinion of Mrs. Gertrude S. Telford of Pelly, Sask.

National convener of the committee on legislation of the Federation—Women's Institutes of Canada, Mrs. Telford told the meeting Saturday that "we have a tremendous task in arousing Canadian women from this apathy." She added that institute women are "rising to this challenge."

In presenting her reports, Mrs. Telford said Ontario Women's Institutes have made a study of municipal, county, provincial and federal systems of government. She quoted Ontario's provincial convener, the late Mrs. R. B. Colclough, Lorne Park, who advised that "it is more important to study impending legislation and to render protest if considered advisable before rather than after the bill has become law."

Saturday's Charming Bride

Mrs. Harold Husband, the former Miss Marguerite Lindsay, photographed at her home in the Uplands on Saturday afternoon, following her marriage at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Society

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber have been spending the weekend at their Vancouver residence and are expected back at Government House tomorrow morning.

Capt. J. H. Carvosso, M.C., and Mrs. Carvosso will arrive from Winnipeg early in December to make their home here again. Capt. Carvosso having been transferred from Port Osborne Barracks to Work Point.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ernest Rumball, formerly Miss Marjorie Elizabeth Urquhart of Salmon Arm, who have been spending their honeymoon on the mainland, returned to Victoria yesterday afternoon and are resident at 2921 Prior Street.

Miss Mary Hughes of Salmon Arm, who was bridesmaid at the Rumball-Urquhart wedding that took place last week, and who was the guest of friends while in Victoria, left yesterday afternoon for the mainland on her return to her home in the interior.

Friends of Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Weaver of Yokohama will be interested to learn that a silver tea is to be held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. Davidson, 3520 Quadra Street, the proceeds of which will be forwarded to the former Victoria clergyman and his wife as a Christmas present. Rev. and Mrs. Weaver were recently evacuated from Shanghai.

Miss Yvonne Taylor entertained a number of her young friends on Saturday afternoon at her home on Richmond Avenue, in celebration of her birthday. Twenty-three young guests sat down at the prettily-appointed tea table, which was gay with balloons and novelties. The birthday cake of ice cream, with its nine lighted candles, was cut by the young hostess. Those present included: Patricia Gibbs, Barbara Marshall, Marilyn Pelting, Eleanor and Lorraine Miles, Maureen Bray, Shirley Campbell, Lillian Price, Shirley McNeill, Betty Joan Elworthy, Irla Irene Hughes, Marilyn Ivings, Margaret Jean Angus, Mary Lou Morgan, Ariel Marie Jorre de St. Jorre, Mavis Nattrass, Catherine Rounding, June Gibson and Mervyn and Billy Hughes.

Miss Anne Ridewood, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Ridewood, accompanied by Miss Marjorie Hardy, R.N., will leave this week for California to spend a few months in the south in the interests of Miss Ridewood's health, she having been ill since her return from England.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grant have returned to their home on Windsor Road after spending a month at various points in the United States. While in Port Townsend they were the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Edward Drake.

Professor King Gordon went over to Vancouver Saturday night to meet his sister, Miss M. Gordon of Winnipeg, who, with Miss M. Mackay of Winnipeg, arrived in the mainland city yesterday on the Hiyu Maru from Japan. Miss Gordon and Miss Mackay are proceeding to their home in the Manitoba city.

About 300 young people attended the delightful dance held in the Crystal Garden on Friday evening by the Royal Bridge Junior Chapter I.O.D.E. The order's emblem was a colorful feature of the decorative scheme and at entrance to the ballroom was placed the chapter's standard. Mrs. P. E. Corby, regent of the chapter, was assisted by Miss Georgina Dowdall in receiving the guests. On the committee were Misses Betty Cotte, Lucy Huzzey, Marian Wingate, Estelle McDougall, Jessie Wood, Marjory Delf and Phyllis Dods-worth, who was in charge of the posters. Taking tickets at the door were Misses Joy Savage, Joyce Harvey, "Bunty" Clark and Phyllis Porter. The proceeds will be used towards establishing a bursary fund for young students.

With the pre-Christmas social season in Victoria one of the gayest there has been in years, and dance gowns unusually original and attractive, the weekly supper dance in the ballroom at the Empress Hotel drew a larger quota than ever on Saturday night. Among those who served for large parties were the Hon. Frank M. MacPherson and Mrs. MacPherson with 30, and the Kiwanis Club for 36. Numbers of the guests who had attended the Husband-Lindsay wedding came in to dance. Billy Tickle's Empress orchestra played during the evening hits from the current picture at the Dominion, "Varsity Show," and social Victoria "swung" to such measures as "You've Got Something There," "Have You Got Any Castles in the Air, Baby?" "Love Is on the Air Tonight," and "On With the Dance."

Alumnae Tea At St. Ann's Academy

Over 100 old girls of St. Ann's Academy attended the silver tea held by the Alumnae Association in the blue room on Saturday afternoon. Sister Mary Theodore, one of the three pioneer sisters who came to Victoria in 1878 and who helped to organize the local alumnae, was among the honored guests.

Mrs. Walter S. Fraser, Mrs. Gordon Evans, Mrs. W. W. Baines and Mrs. C. E. Wilson presided at the tea table, with its primrose-colored damask cloth and centerpiece of bronze chrysanthemums. The lighting was from a handsome old French chandelier brought here more than 60 years ago.

The reception committee included the president, Miss Flora Hamilton Burns, Mrs. P. A. Farmer, Miss Josephine Cook, and other members of the executive present were Miss Nellie Redgrave, Miss Geraldine Murray, Miss Veronica Neary, Miss Rose McKenna, and Mrs. P. A. Fitzsimmons. Miss Murray was at the receipt of custom.

Following tea, a meeting was held to discuss formation of an alumnae drama group, when Miss Nellie Redgrave was appointed convener to take charge of the first meeting to be held next Wednesday at 8 o'clock in the blue room of the academy. The blue room's proceedings opened with a special Requiem Mass in the chapel in commemoration of deceased alumnae members: Rev. Father Moreau officiated at the service, and later the members assembled to breakfast together in one of the schoolrooms of the academy.

RECENT WEDDINGS

BRACHAT-CARLOS

At St. John's Church on Saturday evening Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick united in marriage Beatrice Victoria, youngest daughter of the late Mr. Dan Carlos and of Mrs. Carlos, Rothwell Street, and Mr. Ernest Alfred Brachat, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Brachat, William Street.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. James Carlos, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin, with full skirt, long sleeves, and a lace collar coming to a V in front. Her veil of embroidered tulle was attached to a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, white carnations and bouvardia.

Miss Susan Carlos, the bride's sister, was maid of honor in old gold satin, with a matching turban and accessories, carrying a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums, the Misses Isabel MacKenzie and Kathleen Elstoft, the bridesmaids, were in frocks of turquoise blue taffeta, with full skirts and bolero jackets. They wore halo hats of tulle to match their frocks, lace mittens and carried sheaves of mauve chrysanthemums and salmon pink carnations. Miss Marion Reid, niece of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid, in a Kate Greenaway frock of yellow taffeta and a matching petal bandeau in her hair. She carried a Colonial posy of mixed flowers.

Mr. Victor Brachat was best man, and Messrs. George and John Carlos, brothers of the bride, were ushers. "Mr. G. Jennings Burnett played the wedding music and Mr. Edmund Pearson sang "Sweet Mystery of Life."

After the wedding a reception was held at the Gorge Vale Golf Club, the bridal party standing under an archway of peach and blue coloring. Mrs. Carlos received in royal blue crepe and a navy blue hat, and Mrs. Brachat in navy blue, and they both wore corsage sprays of pink carnations and violets.

After a honeymoon trip to Los Angeles, for which the bride left in a black ensemble, with a corsage bouquet of roses and bouvardia, a black felt hat and veil, and a double silver fox fur, Mr. and Mrs. Brachat will make their home at 422 Edward Street.

Among the many gifts were a chest of table silver and cutlery, and a cut glass rosebowl, from the associates of the bridegroom at the Victoria Phoenix Brewery Co. Ltd., and a pair of blankets from the friends of the bride at David Spencer Ltd., where she had been a member of the post office staff.

CORBETT-GILL

At a pretty ceremony in St. Mark's Church on Saturday evening, Rev. O. L. Jull solemnized the marriage of Emily Victoria, eldest daughter of Mr. Henry Gill, 561 Dupplin Road, and of the late Mrs. Gill, and Mr. John Wilfred Corbett, second son of Mr. C. W. Corbett, 495 Dupplin Road, and of the late Mrs. Corbett. Mrs. Moore presided at the organ, and during the signing of the register Miss Dorothy Blakeney sang "At Dawning."

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a pretty frock of white net over taffeta and a floor length veil arranged with strands of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses. Miss Nellie Nash, in a mauve net frock and carrying a sheaf of yellow chrysanthemums, and the bride's sister, Miss Violet Gill, in pink net, carrying pink chrysanthemums, were bridesmaids, and wore floral bandeaus in their hair. Mr. Carl Corbett was best man, and the ushers were Mr. William Gill and Mr. William Corbett.

A reception was held in the church hall, Mr. Gill being assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. F. Harris, an old family friend, and by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. Gill. The couple left at midnight for a honeymoon to be spent in Vancouver and Seattle, and on their return will make their home on Qu'Appelle Street.

SHAW-CORNWALL

At St. Alban's Church on Saturday afternoon, Rev. Robert Connell, assisted by Rev. F. Comely, united in marriage Mary Muriel Brooke, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Cornwall, 2573 Cavendish Avenue, and Mr. Robert Charles Lugin Shaw, second son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Shaw, West Saanich Road.

Baskets of pink and white chrysanthemums were used in decoration of the church. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a redingote frock of shell pink lace over taffeta, with a pink veil arranged beneath a silver bandeau. She also wore an heirloom pearl brooch, and silver slippers, and carried a large bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Miss Barbara Cornwall, the bride's sister, was the only attendant, in a frock of emerald green taffeta, worn with a gold Juliet cap and gold shoes, and carried a bouquet of pink and white chrysanthemums. Mr. William Hall was best man, and the bride's brother, Mr. Brooke Cornwall, was usher.

Miss Beryl Belson and Miss Barbara Cornwall were responsible for the decorations in the church.

Later a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the rooms being arranged with pink and white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Cornwall received in a gown of sapphire blue velvet and a black hat, and Mrs. Shaw was in rose moire silk and a black hat.

After a honeymoon on the island, for which the bride left in a smart hyacinth blue tweed suit, with navy blue accessories, and a grey tweed coat, the couple will take up residence at the "Old West Farm," Saanich.

CROFT-NORTON

A military wedding drew a large congregation to St. Paul's Naval Garrison Church on Saturday evening when Rev. Arthur Bischoffberger united in marriage Robina Isabella Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Norton, 883 Dunsmead Road, and Sgt. Roy Croft, Royal Canadian Artillery, elder son of Capt. and Mrs. Edwin Croft, Vancouver. Mr. F. E. Boulter played the wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of cream satin with a brief train and long sleeves, and a veil of embroidered tulle confined to a Juliet cap of orange blossoms and pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses and white carnations.

Miss Annalies Egil, Keremeos, was the bridesmaid, in a frock of old gold satin with short puff sleeves, and a black velvet belt. In place of a hat she wore one of the new black veils caught across the brow with a spray of flowers, and carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums. Little Helen and Teddy Martin, Vancouver, niece and nephew of the bridegroom, were flower girl and page respectively, the little girl in a dainty frock of purple velvet and a Dutch cap of cream lace, and the little boy in a cream satin blouse and brief purple velvet trousers.

Staff Sgt. A. T. Smith, P.P.C.L.I., was best man, and the ushers were Lance Bombardier W. Pittendright and Gunner W. Ashbury, both of the R.C.A. All wore uniforms.

A reception was held later in the Parish Hall, where bronze chrysanthemums adorned the supper table, which was centred with the bride's cake. Mrs. Norton welcomed the guests in a gown of black transparent velvet with a red and gold sash, and hat en suite, assisted by Mrs. Croft in brown lace and chiffon. They both wore corsage bouquets of pink carnations.

Sgt. and Mrs. Croft will make their home at 878 Esquimalt Road after their wedding trip, for which the bride left in a grey suit and black accessories, and a coat of grey "kurliir."

Alumnae Has Telephone Bridge

In aid of the Alumnae Association of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital a series of telephone bridge parties have been held during the last week. Among those who have held bridge parties are Mrs. G. M. Duncan, who had six tables on Friday afternoon, when those playing included Mrs. Arthur Dixon, Mrs. Kenneth McCarter, Mrs. E. E. Fairchild, Mrs. Trenholm Dickson, Mrs. P. Cochran, Mrs. Fred Spencer, Mrs. J. Noble, Mrs. F. E. Doidge, Mrs. M. Watson, Mrs. A. J. Hourston, Mrs. D. B. Nickerson, Mrs. Mackintosh, Mrs. B. Davies, Mrs. B. H. Anderson, Mrs. W. T. Bracken, Mrs. D. McMillan,

ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?

THERE are certain things a woman has to put up with and be a good sport. Men, because they are men, can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell cat the rest of the time. No matter how your back aches—no matter how loudly your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband. For three generations our women have told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tune up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three decades of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood, 2. Preparing for motherhood, 3. Approaching "middle age." Don't let a three-quarter wife take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "smiling through."

TO MEN AND WOMEN OF ALL AGES... ESPECIALLY THOSE OVER 40

Though You're Much Past 40... FEEL YOUNG AGAIN take PHYLOSAN

THOUSANDS HAVE HELPED THEMSELVES REGAIN VIGOROUS VITALITY

"My husband and I have been taking Phyllosan tablets for a few weeks and are both feeling years younger. Everybody is surprised at my appearance, as up to six weeks ago I was looking so tired and ill."

"For some weeks I have been taking Phyllosan tablets and the results are more than satisfactory, seeing what a state I was in. I am now 40 but feel almost like 20—alert and never fatigued."

READ WHAT

DOCTORS SAY

"Phyllosan tablets have been widely used... and improvement under their use has been noted as marked and progressive, even after only one month's treatment."

"Phyllosan-tablets are an effective vitalizing and re-energizing agent, producing, in cases under my supervision, really splendid results."

If you are tired, depressed... if you have little zest for work or play... in short, if you are "feeling your age"... start taking Phyllosan tablets today! Just two tiny, tasteless tablets before each meal. Yet take them regularly, and they will help enrich and invigorate your blood, strengthen your nerves, fill every cell in your body with abundant new energy.

Phyllosan tablets are not a stimulant, contain no habit-forming drugs or animal extracts. Their reconditioning effect, because it is progressive and lasting, helps you not only to feel young again, but to keep feeling young. At all druggists... 85¢ ($1.50 for double quantity).

To Speak Here

Nadina Kavinoky, M.D., who will conduct an institute on "Sex and Living" here on Saturday, November 27, in the Memorial Hall, Vancouver Street, graduated in 1910, receiving the degree of Doctor of Medicine, specializing in gynecology and endocrinology. She is supervisor of mothers' clinics in the Los Angeles County Health Department, the Women's Hospital in Pasadena, Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in Los Angeles, and in the White Memorial Out-patient clinic, also in Los Angeles. At present she is teaching a course of "Problems of the Family" to the senior medical students at the School of Medical Evangelists and to the pupil and graduate nurses in training at the Huntington Memorial Hospital, Pasadena; the Good Samaritan Hospital, and the White Memorial Hospital, and the Public Health nurses of Los Angeles. Dr. Kavinoky is the mother of three children and has two grandchildren of whom she is very proud.

The members of the Sherwood Missionary Auxiliary stood in silent testimony to the memory of the late Mrs. Sheridan, who was the first auxiliary president and served faithfully for many years. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. C. Wharton, Forbes Street, with Mrs. F. W. Laing in the chair. The Scripture reading was given by Mrs. John Hall and prayer by Mrs. Fred Emery. Reports were given by Mrs. C. Wharton on temperance and Mrs. Alma Vey gave the number of calls made. Solos were given by Mrs. Ridgway, accompanied by Mrs. King. Mrs. Bryce Wallace read from the book, "A New Church Faces a New World." Mrs. C. C. Perry moved the vote of thanks and Rev. Bryce Wallace closed the meeting with prayer.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. C. C. Perry and Mrs. Aaron Parfitt.

By PETE SALLAWAY

THERE are seven golfing Turnesas, and if the six professionals are as bright as the amateur, it oughtn't even be a contest. The only simon-pure Turnesa and the youngest member of the famous fairway family, developed not far from the side walks of New York, is Willie. If for no other reason, Willie Turnesa is notable because he has no idea of joining the money players.

"A fellow is foolish to get a college education and then become a pro golfer," says Willie Turnesa, who is aiming for a law career, following his graduation in June.

Last summer Willie Turnesa repeated in the New England Intercollegiate, where his 139 took the medal for the second straight year. He repeated in the Westchester County, N.Y., amateur, and bagged the metropolitan amateur. He collared the qualifying medal in the U.S. Intercollegiate. He led qualifiers for the U.S. open from the metropolitan area, by flashing a 143. With Virginia Gilfoyle, he took the medal in the U.S.-mixed foursomes.

Willie, the Turnesa collegian, was edged out in the Jess Sweetser victory memorial tournament at Wingfoot by Ray Billows, unleashed a 283. With Udo Reinach he attained the final of the John G. Anderson memorial four-ball only to have Eddie Driggs hole out a chip shot on the 18th to grab the bacon. In the U.S. amateur at Portland he knocked off a dozen who tied for the qualifying spot, only to lose in the final playoff. Young Turnesa's peak achievement of the season was breaking Bobby Jones' course record at Wingfoot with a 68. At 22, he has competed in a half dozen U.S. amateurs. He has been playing golf since he was six years old, and says the greatest experience is that of a caddy.

"Golf is a matter of momentum," asserts Willie Turnesa. "The main thing is to get away to a good start, and set a steady pace. There are days when you can't seem to do anything wrong, when long putts are seeking the cup, and every stroke seems to fill the prescription. My bit of advice to a tournament golfer is to stay in shape and try not to become overgolfed. Tired and overgolfed, you lose concentration, and with that goes timing."

Willie Turnesa can't see how John Montague can be so much better than the top-ranking golfers as stories claim. "Our better pros have achieved practically maximum effectiveness, and I don't believe that Montague or anyone else can beat them consistently," he explains. "In my own case, the 68 at Wingfoot was about as close to rock bottom as it is possible to come on that course, and, honestly, I don't see how Montague could improve on it much, regardless of his tools."

Using clubs that were too heavy for him as a kid, even after they were cut down, gave Willie Turnesa one of the fastest swings in golf, and enable a slight 145-pounder to whack 250-yard drives. Willie's idea is that professionals are better medal competitors, but lack the aggressiveness of amateurs.

W. B. Leach Is Links Winner

Finishing with a gross score of 82 which his handicap reduced to a net 68, W. B. Leach won the third men's monthly competition at the Victoria Golf Club yesterday. A. H. Ford finished second with a net 69.

Scores follow:

COLWOOD WINS
Playing on their home floor Saturday night, Colwood defeated Sooke, 51 to 35, in a Saanich and Suburban League basketball fixture.

Rookies Star As Bruins Turn Back Chicago Hawks 2-1

Art Ross's Club Still Undeclared in Major Hockey; Toronto Wins

Rangers in Tie

WEEK-END SCORES
Boston 3, Toronto 2.
Boston 2, Chicago 1.
Rangers 3, Maroons 0.
Rangers 3, Maroons 3.
Toronto 5, Detroit 0.

This season's Bruins seem destined to be one of the great Boston teams. Art Ross has set lofty standards with previous machines but none could have flown higher than Bruins have this year in winning their first six starts.

Whenever Boston greats are discussed, the first to come up is the mighty unit which established an all-time scoring mark with 179 goals in 1929-30. That team won 38 of the 44 games in its schedule, then failed against Montreal Canadiens in the Stanley Cup finals. Cooney Weiland set a record of 43 goals and 30 assists that year and Dutch Gainer made 31 assists.

Never quite the equal of that club, others Ross has welded have won six American division titles and finished second three times in 11 years. Remarkably, the only time Bruins have won the Stanley Cup was in 1928-29.

Of the history-making cast of 1929-30, only goalie Tiny Thompson, Eddie Shore, Dit Clapper and Weiland still are in the lineup. But into the places of those who have drifted away have come swift, sure-shooting forwards and dynamic, -dealing defencemen. Best of all, there has come a forward line from Kitchener, Ont., that should sparkle for years.

ROOKIES STAR
It was this new "baby line" of Milt Schmidt, Porky Dumart and Bobby Bauer that played a major part in the fifth and sixth Boston triumphs during the week-end. They ripped in a goal to put Bruins ahead of the Maple Leafs at Toronto Saturday and Boston stayed there to win 3 to 2. Last night the youngsters scored twice and the Black Hawks were beaten 2 to 1 at Chicago.

In each case a capacity crowd—15,089 and 15,500—saw the home side rally only to be beaten back by the stout Bruin defence. The forwards raced in for early goals and back-checked tenaciously the rest of the way.

Ray Getliffe evened the score in the first period at Toronto after Harvey Jackson had put Leafs ahead in the 14th minute on passes from the other members of his ace line, Gordon Drillon and Sylvanus Apps. Then the baby line played its hand with Schmidt's goal and Sands, who had passed to Getliffe for the first, ended the Boston scoring aided by Bill Cowley and Getliffe. Nick Metz pushed in the final Leaf counter in the third period. The more notable showing of the Bruin fledglings produced both goals against Chicago in the second period. Schmidt banged in the first on a double pass from his mates and Dumart gathered in Schmidt's relay to race around the Hawk defence for the second. Glen Brydson, assisted by Earl Seibert and Johnny Gottselig, averted a shutout in the third.

Parks Nets Five Football Goals

NANAIMO—Reserve Mine yesterday went into the leadership of the upper island senior soccer league standings when they defeated Nanaimo Galahads 5 to 2 at Central Sports Grounds before a good crowd.

Adanacs-Ryersons Are Cage Victors

VANCOUVER—The four inter-city basketball teams which played here Saturday night today found themselves tied for second place in the league standings.

Adanacs downed Munro Furs, 32 to 24, and Ryersons defeated Westerns, 46 to 43, in an overtime battle, and all four teams went into a tie for second place in the loop standings, one game and two points behind the league-leading University of British Columbia five.

NORTH SHORE WINS
VANCOUVER—North Shore Lions' grid machine combined a triple threat-offensive to smash out an 18 to 1 victory over Vancouver Meralomas Saturday and take over the leadership of the Big Four Canadian Football League.

The defeat dropped Meralomas, former perennial league champions, into second place.

Their Appearance Caused Riot

John Montague, former mysterious man of golf, left, and Babe Ruth, former Sultan of Swat in major league baseball, attracted a crowd of 10,000 to the Fresh Meadow Club, New York, when they played in a foursome with Babe Didrikson and Mrs. Sylvia Annenberg, with the proceeds going to charity. The crowd was so unruly that only nine of the 18 holes were played and damage done to the course was estimated in the thousands.

Bays Defeat Navy To Win First Half

Undeclared Oarsmen Whip Sailors 16 to 5 at Macdonald Park

Defeating the Navy 16 to 5 in a rugged battle, Bert Buller's J.B.A.A. fifteen, present holders of the Barnard Cup, representing city senior rugby supremacy, won the first half of the 1937-38 schedule Saturday at Macdonald Park.

It was the third straight triumph for the oarsmen this season.

Hard tackling featured the 90 minutes of play as the Navy, with nothing to lose and everything to gain, fought a terrific battle from the start. The sailors broke into the scoring column several minutes from the opening whistle when the forward pack went over following a lineout outside the 25-yard area. Little fell on the ball and Jack Cosier converted.

BAYS SCORE

When it looked as though the Navy was going through for a win, the rowing clubbers rallied to score on one of their smart backfield plays. The ball went down the line about the half-way mark and Fred Smith, fleet wing three-quarter, crossed the line for a try. Buzz Brown converted to tie the score.

Scoping up a loose ball after a bad pass, Fred Smith widened the oarsmen's lead shortly before the interval. With two men at his heels he was tagged as he hit the line, but stumbled over. Brown again converted.

Half-way through the first half, Little, Navy forward, injured his left knee and was out of the game temporarily. The injury hampered him in the final session and he retired for the remainder of the game.

The oarsmen had a decided edge in the play in the second half and scored their third try, which culminated in a smart backfield movement down the field with Brown going over on an inside pass. Later in the half Brown again scored. The tries were converted.

Playing at Oak Bay Park, the Oak Bay Wanderers defeated the Garrison 22 to 9 in an exhibition match.

D'Arcy refereed.

The teams were:
J.B.A.A.—Croft, Bray, Petticrew, Ruttan, F. Doheny, C. Doheny, Dalziel, Collier, Stipe, Brown, Halkett, Bridge, Smith, Shepherd and Ferguson.

Navy—Myrla, Hibbert, Smith, Banfield, Downs, Cosier, Butler, Little, Nelson, Mansfield, Rutherford, Conway, McCrae, Bigelow and McKiever.

COLLEGE WINS
Playing at the Victoria High School, the Victoria High School defeated W. Parry and Carew Martin, 5% and 5.

DOUG RITCHIE GOLF WINNER

Captures Graphic Arts Tournament With Net Score of 67

The Graphic Arts golf tournament was played yesterday at the Uplands Club and proved to be a great success. The very handsome perpetual trophy, presented by Norman F. Hall and Company of San Francisco, was won by Doug Ritchie, who shot a 91, which, with his handicap of 24, gave him a net 67, to nose out Bob Morrison, who shot a wonderful round considering the heavy going, of 72, less his handicap of 3, 69.

C. F. Banfield, King's Printer, presided at the banquet which was held at the conclusion of the tournament and, after welcoming the visitors from Vancouver and thanking the donors of prizes, presented the trophies to the winners. The banquet was followed by a musical programme under the capable direction of Ollie Corbett, and, according to every one present, the event was a great success and the committee plan to hold another reunion in the spring.

Chiwaki Wins Over McIntyre

Gypsy Wrestler Given Nod When Scot Sustains Injured Shoulder

A "pile-driver" hold in the third session put Donald McIntyre's shoulder out of commission and Chief Chiwaki, 246-pound gypsy, was awarded the decision in the main event on Saturday night's wrestling show at the Tillicum gym. Dr. A. G. Aylward examined the Scot's injury and reported a temporary dislocation of the shoulder. McIntyre, 222 pounds, got a fall in the second round.

The semi-main bout, bringing together Abe Yourist, 218 pounds, New York, and Danny Dusek, 222-pounder from Omaha, resulted in a one-fall draw after an exciting match. Both performers handed out plenty of punishment, and at the conclusion of the bout were given a big hand.

Kimono Kudo, clever Japanese exponent, scored a one-fall win over George Lowe, Victoria's "Chinese flash." This was the special event. Kudo weighed 170 pounds and Lowe 149 pounds. Jack Frost won from Pat McGregor in the opener, when the latter sprained his wrist and was unable to continue.

Cricketers to Hold Meeting

Members of the Victoria Cricket Club will meet at an informal dinner tonight at 6:30 in Spencer's dining room. The dinner will be followed by the annual meeting, when plans for the 1938 season will be discussed and officers elected.

VICTORIA WEST IN WIN NUMBER FIVE

Payne again sagged the twine with a blistering drive. From the centre-off the Wests forced play and were successful in scoring their first goal. Taking a free kick, Barnes passed to Watt, who moved in close on goal. Rowe and whipped the ball into the net.

The Wests held play, but the City defence was sound. Robinson was forced to leave the field through injuries and the Wests substituted George Barnes. Morgan came close to tying the count when his shot hit the post and rebounded into play.

With the start of the second half the City substituted Brandow for Cummings. The clubs set a tough pace for 30 minutes, with no further goals. At this point the Wests tied the score, Roy Okell taking a pass from Morgan to get in close and beat Rowe. Minutes later Barnes lifted in a high lob which fooled Rowe and floated into the corner of the net.

Before the finish of the match the Wests were awarded two penalty shots, both being called against Roper. Rowe rose to the occasion on both times, blocking shots from Roy Okell and G. Barnes.

D. Swan refereed. The teams follow: Victoria West—T. Restell, Sweeney, J. Okell, Loranidini, R. Barnes, C. Restell, R. Okell, Robinson, Watt, Morgan, Brown and G. Barnes.

Victoria City—Rowe, McConnell, Roper, C. Robbins, Moody, Moore, Cummings, Peers, Clarke, Payne, Glancy and Brandow.

DEADLOCK MATCH

Playing on a slippery field, the Garrison and Esquimalt teams had a tough time displaying good football. The youthful dockers showed much improvement over recent performances, and until late in the match held a one-goal margin.

Garrison had the upper hand in the first half, and it was only smart work of goalie Chalmers that kept them from finding the net until just before the interval, when a shot by Kennedy struck W. Stewart, one of the Esquimalt backs, and went into the net.

During a scramble in the Garrison goal mouth early in the second half, Holness nipped in to push the ball past Elliott to tie the score. Esquimalt took a new lease on life and were able to get out in front when Barnswell settled down again and before the final whistle. Worswick scored and the match finished in a stalemate.

Tom Robb refereed. The teams follow: Esquimalt—Chalmers, W. Stewart, Holness, Elliott, Barnswell, Young, English and McLean.

"Rep" Captain

JACK FERGUSON

J.B.A.A. fullback, who has been named captain of Victoria's 1937 McKeech Cup rugby squad. The selection was made following Saturday's match at Macdonald Park in which the oarsmen defeated the Navy 16 to 5 in the last game of the first half of the Barnard Cup schedule. As he had done all season, Ferguson played a brilliant game at fullback for the rowing clubbers. Ferguson began his rugby at Boys' Central School under Ernie Butterworth, and played later at Victoria High School, where he was captain of the first team for several years. He played with Jack Baxter's Fifth Brigade intermediates, and then graduated to Charlie Morton's senior squad, where he played in the backfield with Paul Rowe. Ferguson is an all-round athlete, having played basketball and soccer, as well as rugby at Victoria High School. He turned out for a couple of seasons with Archie McKinnon's track squad, and proved himself a runner of fair ability. After graduating from Victoria High School he attended Willamette University in Oregon.

art, Laird, Holt, Cooper, Sage, Barnswell, J. Stewart, Holness, Young, English and McLean. Garrison—Elliott, Evans, Jim Watt, Stewart, Thompson, Wallace, Hamilton, Kennedy, Shone, Worswick, Thorburn and Clark.

Motorcyclists Wind Up Season

As an appropriate wind-up to a highly successful season of activities, more than 70 members and their friends of the Victoria Motorcycle Club gathered in the Palais de Danse, Dallas Road, Saturday night, for the annual banquet and dance. C. F. Frampton, president, was in the chair.

The chief business of the evening was the presentation of prizes for various events held during the year. L. G. Scott, who was a member of the club before the war and still rides, presented the hill-climb trophies, while A. M. Kirk handed out the T.T. trial trophies and President Frampton presented the silver-plated trench helmet he wore overseas to the winner of the all-night endurance run to Nanaimo and back.

The chairman welcomed the guests, including Inspector G. A. Hood, representing the Provincial Police; Sgt. S. Wilkinson, representing the City Police, and Sgt. K. Cummings, representing the Saanich Police.

Children Placed In Foster Homes

The board meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held on Thursday at the society's office, 1234 Pandora Avenue. Two new members, Mrs. F. Mutrie and Dr. O. C. Lucas, were welcomed to the board, and H. S. Hurn, principal of Victoria West School, was appointed to fill a vacant place caused by a resignation.

Interesting reports were presented by the chairmen of the family work and the child placing and supervision committees and it was noted with great satisfaction that eleven of the society's wards were in free foster homes while there is prospect of three additional free homes being available in the near future. The society feels that a great deal of praise is due to those who are able and willing to provide homes for wards free of cost. Such homes, of course, meet with the standard requirements of the society and the children placed in them are subject to the same regular supervision as other wards of the society.

ROYAL OAK

An old-time dance was held in the Community Hall under the auspices of the Royal Oak Women's Institute on Friday evening, with Scafe's orchestra in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barker entertained at a five hundred card party at their home, Old West Road. Prizes were won by Mrs. R. E. Lohr, J. Messerschmidt, Mrs. J. Messerschmidt and B. Lock.

In honor of Mrs. H. Langrish, who is leaving the district, Mrs. P. M. Monckton and Miss D. Hewett entertained at tea at Miss Hewett's, Prospect Road.

The fortnightly five hundred card party will be held in the Royal Oak Community Hall, under the auspices of the institute, Wednesday, November 25, at 8.

Students' dancing class will be held in the Community Hall under

Timber Wolves Enjoy Reunion

Reminiscences of twenty or more years ago were exchanged by former members of the 103rd Battalion, C.E.F., when they gathered in "Spencer's" dining-room Saturday night for the Timber Wolves' annual reunion. Capt. F. G. Dexter made a versatile chairman and toastmaster. Before the musical programme proceeded he called for a silent tribute to the memory of the popular second in command of the battalion, Major K. B. Spurgin, who had passed on during the year. Silent tribute was also paid to fallen comrades.

Rev. F. L. Stevenson, padre of the unit, proposed the toast of the battalion. Capt. W. Bell aptly replied.

T. W. Hall gave interesting reminiscences of the battalion, and also spoke interestingly of a return to France with the Vimy pilgrimage.

The musical programme was contributed by Sam Hook, Al McKinnon, Bill Holmes, Arthur Jackman, E. Webb, Bill Morey, W. Barton and F. Ash.

SCOUT NEWS

ST. MARY'S TROOP

The parents' committee of St. Mary's Scout and Cub Group announce a winter fair will be held in St. Mary's Hall, Yale Street, on Saturday afternoon, December 4, at 2:30. Games, fortune telling, and items by the Scouts will be featured. Tea will be served.

The meeting of St. Mary's Troop was opened by Duty P.L. Robin Travis. Dave Gornall received the auspices of the Royal Oak Women's Institute, Monday, November 22, at 8.

his first-class badge and Grade A all-found cords. The troop was congratulated by the scoutmaster on the success of the hobby show held last Saturday night. Following inspection, a lively game of "cock-fighting" was played, after which the patrols went to their various dens for instruction by the P.L.'s. A new signaling game and two relay races took place. Four scouts from Royal Oak Troop were guests. Next week's meeting will take place as usual, with the patrols being run by the seconds, as the patrol leaders will be attending sessions of the 18th International Patrol Leaders' Convention.

FIRST TILlicum SCOUTS

The First Tillicum Troop held a father and son banquet last Monday evening. The proceedings were opened in the usual Scout manner, after which games were played. The event marked the second anniversary of the troop, which has grown considerably since its inception and accomplished a great deal. Refreshments were served.

Rabbit Show Was Held at Willows

Judging in the 14th annual winter show of the British Columbia Provincial Rabbit Breeders' Association ended yesterday afternoon, but grand aggregate and best-in-show awards have still to be compiled.

The show which was held in the Willows on Saturday and Sunday was said to be one of the best on record. Number of entries totaled 175 with many out-of-town rabbits in the show. Some of these were from the Fairbridge Farm School, Cowichan.

Among the best of breeds were Mrs. D. Bayle's rabbit in the Angoras, and C. Woolley's entry in the Flemish class.

SLEEPING MAN IS ATTACKED

Thieves Enter Home of Claude S. Young, Saanich, and Rob Him

Claude S. Young, Belgrave Street, Saanich, was attacked and robbed by assailants who entered his home at 4.30 this morning and assaulted him in his bedroom, where he was sleeping.

According to Saanich police, the attackers gained entry by jimmying a window on the lower floor of the house.

They then went upstairs, where they pounced on Mr. Young in his bed, beating him about the face. Robbery was apparently the motive, the thieves making off with a gold watch.

Sergt. P. K. Cummings and Constable C. F. Pearce, who investigated, said Mr. Young thought one of the intruders might have been a woman.

By the time he had recovered from the first effects of the attack they had made their getaway. He was struck by fists, he told police.

STANELAND TO STAND AGAIN

School Trustee Seeks Re-election; W. D. Todd Mentioned for Alderman

Trustee Walter Staneland, who returned to the school board in the civic election of 1935 after serving prior terms on the board as well as the police commission, announced his intention today of seeking re-election as trustee.

His announcement is the second of sitting trustees, John Wallace having previously stated his decision to seek return. It raised to five the number seeking six seats on the board. F. G. Mulliner is standing for the one-year term by-election occasioned by the resignation of W. C. Moresby, K.C., while W. P. Marchant and Mrs. A. S. Christie are also in the field.

Since his return to the school board, Trustee Staneland officiated as chairman of the educational committee, as well as that in charge of the night school. In the latter, his committee, with the assistance of the school personnel, has succeeded in making the courses self-supporting for the first time on record.

In addition to working for the board some time ago, Mr. Staneland spent eight years with the police commission.

In the aldermanic field, W. D. Todd was reported as a possible candidate. Mr. Todd declined to make any announcement other than that he was considering standing.

May Hear Drug Store Petition

Possibility of a petition being presented to the council from drug store operators seeking to establish 10 o'clock in the evening as their definite closing time, was seen at the City Hall today, where the petition was filed.

Signatures listed were numerically sufficient to call for the change under the existing by-law, but certain names represented men whose trades licenses for the current year have not yet been paid.

If they are brought up to good standing by this evening, action will probably be taken by the council at its meeting tonight.

The council may also hear a report on the proposed changes in the Hospital Act. Apart from the effect it would have on St. Joseph's Hospital and possible extra payments to that institution by the city, the suggested alterations would not concern the council, Mayor McGavin indicated.

TOWN TOPICS

The annual meeting of Premier L.O.L. No. 1610 will take place tonight at 8. Officers will be elected.

Jimmy James, an Indian, was fined $10 when he pleaded guilty in the City Police Court this morning to a charge of being intoxicated.

The Victoria Branch of the Canadian Pensioners' Association of the Great War will hold its monthly meeting next Saturday evening at 8.

Wild strawberries are in bloom at Colwood. Cyril Clark brought a flower to the newsroom of The Times this morning and says there are a lot more to be found.

The evangelistic meetings at the Douglas Street Baptist Church will continue for another week. Tonight Evangelist Lee will preach on "Is Conscience a Safe Guide?"

The class in public speaking conducted by Rev. Dr. W. J. Sipprell will meet tonight in Victoria High School. The class will meet each Monday and Thursday until the Christmas holidays.

On Friday Rowles' Boys' Band held a social in the bandroom, Fort Street. A programme of band music was well rendered. Several solos were given. Games and refreshments brought the evening to a close.

Court Northern Light, No. 5935, Ancient Order of Foresters, will meet Wednesday night at 8. After the business session a stunt social will be held under the auspices of the joint social committee.

E. E. Richards in his address tonight in the Campbell Building will take up the question of possible aerial attacks on our coastal cities. In this connection The Toronto Star interviewed with the venerable war-time padre and poet, Archdeacon F. G. Scott, and the debate in the British House of Commons on aerial protection will be dealt with.

Capt. and Mrs. W. Ross of Vancouver, who led the week-end meetings at the Salvation Army Citadel, Broad Street, will be in charge again tonight at 8. This public meeting will conclude the series of special services conducted during the last 10 days when different speakers assisted the corps officer, Adjutant C. Watt. Mrs. Ross will sing and the captain will give some of his personal experience. Tomorrow night they will lead a public meeting at the Esquimalt Salvation Army Hall, upstairs, corner of Constance Avenue and Esquimalt Road.

Dr. Wallace R. Gunn was re-elected president of the provincial branch of the United Empire Loyalist Association at the annual meeting in his home on Victoria Avenue, Friday night. Major Beaumont Boggs was again named honorary vice-president, and other officers named were: W. E. Losses, first vice-president; Col. E. R. Tooley, second vice-president; Miss Queenie Tabor, treasurer; Miss Virginia Ross, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. Millard, recording secretary, and Mrs. A. C. Ross, Mrs. M. H. Taylor, Mrs. A. John Yardley, Mrs. H. D. Brumpton, Walter Adams and J. H. Tabor, executive.

Entertainment at the meeting was contributed by Miss Marguerite Elliott, Miss Phyllis Deaville, Jack Townsend, Mrs. C. S. Beals, and Miss Shirley Gunn.

Hospital Office System Changed

The office system of the Jubilee Hospital will be changed to fit the new forms called for by the provincial government's regulations, the board of directors of the hospital has instructed its auditors.

The new regulations were the subject of instructions issued at one of the sessions of the recent British Columbia Hospitals' Association conference here.

On October 31 there were 276 patients in the hospital, the monthly statistical report showed. Admissions totaled 381 and discharges 421. There were 26 births during the month.

It was reported the new tray room, organized under the direction of Dr. T. Walker, medical superintendent of the hospital, for the preparation of solutions for injections, had completed a successful month of operation.

The board authorized the purchase of equipment, including a new supply of radium and a new stabilizer for the rotating-anode tube of the X-ray department.

A resolution of thanks to the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber for their entertainment of delegates to the hospital convention at Government House was passed by the board.

F. E. Winslow, chairman, presided.

Says Accused On Wild Drunk

Counsel Claims Intoxication Defence for J. H. Surrey and K. Keifer

Hearing of a charge against James H. Surrey, 19, of the Naval barracks, and Klieve Keifer, 18, of Work Point Barracks, of assaulting Philip J. Burnett with intent to rob, was concluded in the City Police Court this morning.

Magistrate Henry Hall remanded the case until tomorrow morning for judgment.

In his summation for the defence this morning, Carew Martin, counsel for both accused, submitted their actions on the night of November 13 indicated both men were on a wild drunk. They were in such a state of mind through intoxication, he submitted, that they were incapable of forming intentions to rob Burnett.

Evidence all through showed at least that Keifer was unable to form such intent, Mr. Martin said, and claimed that actions of Surrey indicated those of "a man on a wild drunk. Surrey simply ran amok. The man was wild."

Further, there had been no motive for the outrageous assault on Burnett, Mr. Martin continued. Mr. Martin emphasized the fact that evidence indicated Keifer was not in a fit state to form any intentions of robbing.

In his argument, C. L. Harrison, prosecutor, claimed if one were guilty both should be. All indictable offences carried intent, and the question was whether they did realize what they were doing or were they incapable?

HAD REASONING POWER.
Citing the evidence, Mr. Harrison said he did not think persons having such knowledge of the events as the accused had given in evidence could have been mentally blank. Drunkenness was no excuse for crime unless one could not realize the nature or quality of his act, he continued.

Hearing of the charge of breaking and entering a dwelling house, against Surrey, will await judgment in the assault case.

Typhoon Toll in Philippines 219

MANILA, P.I. (AP)—The known death toll in the Philippine Islands typhoon of last week rose to 219 today with the discovery of 49 additional bodies in the Visayan group.

Georgia Death Is Investigated

SEA ISLAND, Ga. (AP)—A coroner's inquest was ordered today to investigate the mystery death of Howard E. Coffin, 64, textile magnate, war-time air expert and pioneer in the automobile industry, who was found dead with a bullet wound in his face.

His death on the even of a projected hunting trip was described by James D. Compton, general manager of the Sea Island Company, as "apparently an accident."

Coroner James D. Baldwin of Glynn County nevertheless ordered an inquest as required by law in the absence of witnesses to the shooting.

Coffin's body was found Sunday morning in an upstairs bedroom at the home of his nephew, Alfred W. Jones, on Sea Island, a deer rifle lay nearby.

Daughter of H.B.C. Factor Is Dead

WINNIPEG (CP)—Mrs. Isabel S. Leslie, daughter of Wemyss Simpson, once a Hudson's Bay Company factor at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and a cousin of Sir George Simpson, former head of that company, died yesterday, aged 75.

Mrs. H. J. Cowan of Victoria is a sister.

From England to France

DIEPPE, France—I was sorry to leave England, but I must be getting on with my journey. I have thousands of miles more to travel, and many countries to visit.

Looking back, I feel about the same as I did after visits in former years. England seems to be a kind of storybook country, with ever so many things on a small scale. Trains, roads, motor cars, farms and so on.

Fishing Smacks in Dieppe.

The English often do something today because it was the custom last year, or a hundred years ago, or even five or six centuries ago. Yet bit by bit, they are changing in some fields, and when they change we may feel just about sure that it is solid progress.

The English Channel, between the British Isles and the mainland of Europe, helps explain why England differs so much from France, Germany and other countries. There has not been free movement of people between the continent and the islands. Always there has been the need to take a boat to get across this stretch of water—that is, always until the coming of the flying machine.

Nowadays, scores of airplanes pass back and forth each day with loads of passengers and letters. In time to come, I have no doubt that thousands of planes will speed across the channel daily.

I crossed the English Channel by boat, sailing from Newhaven to Dieppe. It was a rough crossing, and many became seasick. When I crossed the Atlantic recently I did not notice a single seasick passenger, but on this crossing (lasting only a few hours) there were dozens and dozens. The sailors were busy handing them paper cartons.

I am glad to report that I escaped. In all the journeys I have made across salt water I never have been seasick. My only suffering of that kind took place 20 years ago, when I crossed Lake Michigan on a windy day.

It is interesting to be in France, where the people say "il vous plait" (see-voo-play) instead of "please" and "merci, beaucoup" (mare-see-bo-koo) instead of "thank you." To go from Dieppe to Paris I must hand the conductor a "billet," that is a ticket. (For travel section of your scrapbook.)

Tomorrow—The French Capital City.

Soldiers Killed On India Frontier

NEW DELHI, India (CP-Reuters)—Two British privates and one Indian soldier were killed in fighting in Waziristan between November 16 and 18 in addition to casualties previously announced, the government of India reports.

The previous casualty list from the Waziristan sector of the troubled northwest frontier area showed one British soldier killed and five British and five Indians wounded. An expeditionary force has been restoring order in the mountainous regions for several months, clashing with followers of the fanatical Fakir of Ipi.

Broken Hearts Can Be Cured

Dorothy Dix

Many Ways of Forgetting Lost Love

THE STRANGEST peculiarity of the feminine sex is the ability that women have to love the unlovable and to break their hearts over losing sweethearts and husbands from whom it was God's own mercy to deliver them.

You would think that when a wife got rid of a husband who beat and abused and reviled her; who sat down on the do-nothing stool, let her toil to support him and then bit the hand that fed him; who had degenerated into a disgusting drunkard whom she had to fish out of the gutter, she would beat upon the cymbals and chant paeans of joy when she lost him either through death or by the assistance of another woman.

You would think that when a girl was jilted by a man who had sworn his devotion to her a thousand times, who had won her love and trust and made her believe that she was the only woman in the world to him, she would consider herself the favorite daughter of Lady Luck because she had found out before marriage how faithless and untrustworthy he was, and she would never give him another thought except one of contempt coupled with the hope that some day he would get what was coming to him.

But do women meet these problems of disillusion in men and blighted love in this rational manner? Rarely. Believe it or not, a woman can go on loving a husband who has not only redeemed trait about him and who has kicked her around as if she were a dog. A girl can spend the balance of her life bemoaning the false lover who has kissed and ridden away. Fact. Because we have all seen it happen.

There isn't a day that I don't get a bunch of tear-soaked letters from young women whose boy friends have given them the air, telling me of their woes and asking me how they can forget these men who have not only trifled with their affections but their savings-bank accounts. They still pine for their double-crossers. It is hard to imagine any woman whose infatuation for a man would not be automatically cured by her discovery that he is not what she thought he was, but such exists. And they are not in the side show of freaks either, though they deserve to be as Exhibit No. 1 of a Human Porous Plaster.

Of course, in reality, women who go into a state of green and yellow melancholy over an unhappy love affair and who shed barrels of tears over losing a man who was not worth having, don't really want to be cured of what ails them. They don't want to forget. Nothing would induce them to do so. They don't wish to cheer up. What they really enjoy is putting on their crepe pyjamas and wallowing in woe.

They belong to the self-pitying class of women who get their chief joy in life out of cultivating morbidness, who are never so happy as when they are utterly miserable and weeping out their sad, sad stories on our shoulders. If you don't believe this, try to get some woman who is always telling you how cruelly her husband treats her, and bespatters you with her tears, to leave him. Or try to chirk up one of those women who never "get over" a love affair that goes blooey. You can't do it. They are having too much fun being objects of public sympathy.

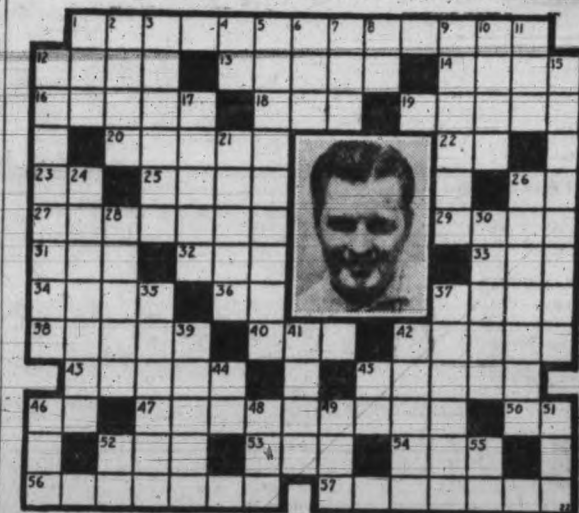

If a wife really does want to forget the husband who has forsaken her for a platinum blonde, or a girl wants to forget the sweetness of remembered kisses, they can do so by refusing to let their minds dwell upon them. Any one with an ounce of will power can keep their thoughts off subjects that torture them if they really wish to do so until time has a chance to heal the wound and take the soreness out of it. The people who can't forget are those who do not wish to forget or try to forget.

There is travel, with change of scene; or association, places and people that bring up the things we want to forget; that presents to us so many things that are new and interesting and fascinating that it makes us forget the past in the interest of the present.

There is work, that panacea for all human ills. No remedy like an absorbing job for a broken heart. And, best of all, a new love in place of the old love.

Seattle Shipping Fears Body Blow

Move Put in Motion to Retain American Mail
Passenger Service

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—
Seattle Port Commission and Chamber of Commerce officials moved today to "avert a body blow to Seattle shipping" through the rumored proposal of the American Mail Line to abandon its passenger service between this port and the Orient.

Port President Smith W. Wilson telegraphed protests to Senator Schwellenbach of Washington and the United States Maritime Commission urging immediate intervention.

Wilson said he had received authentic information from San Francisco, orders had gone out that American Line vessels out of Seattle operate hereafter only as freighters.

In San Francisco Hugo M.
Lorber, vice-president of the Dollar Lines, said, "I don't think there is anything in the report."

His statement, issued in the absence of Stanley Dollar, president of the Dollar Lines, of which the American Mail is a subsidiary, said: "We've had to make some changes in the ships because of the Maritime Act and the orders to do so came quite suddenly but the ships will be made to conform with the maritime requirements."

Until recently the American Mail maintained four vessels on its Seattle-Orient run. The President Jackson, President Jerfes-son, President Grant and President McKinley.

On October 23 the Maritime Commission refused to permit the President Jackson to sail as a passenger liner because of the lack of the "supervisor" device in the ship's automatic fire alarm system.

The "supervisor" is an appli-

WELDED SHIP COMING HERE

SOREL, Que (CP)—Largest all-welded ocean-going ship ever built in Canada, the oil tanker Beeceelite, was launched here Saturday. The 400-ton ship, 127 feet long, will operate on the Pacific Coast out of Vancouver.

Mrs. Alba Galbraith Rahlves, wife of the vice-president of the Imperial Oil Shipping Company, the owners, cracked a bottle of champagne over the ship's nose to start her down the ways.

She will sail soon for Vancouver by way of the Panama Canal under Capt. J. C. White.

ance which shows whether there has been a break in the steam-ship's intricate fire alarm system and is required under a recent maritime law.

Victoria is directly concerned in any move affecting the Orient service of the American Mail Line, as vessels of this fleet have been calling here ever since the service was inaugurated in 1921.

The above dispatch appears to have reference to the recent action of U.S. Maritime Commission in ordering three President liners to sail as restricted passenger vessels pending the installation of additional fire-alarm equipment to conform with safety-at-sea regulation.

Sa. President McKinley, the first ship so equipped, sailed from Seattle and Victoria on Saturday with a regular complement of passengers.

Cable Authority Died Saturday

LONDON (AP)—Sir Charles Bright, 71, cable, telegraph and wireless authority, active in several ocean-cable laying expeditions, died Saturday.
He was the son of the late Sir Charles Tilson Bright, who was knighted at the age of 26 for helping lay the first trans-Atlantic cable.

Inspects Aids To Navigation

D. B. Carswell, Ottawa Marine Superintendent, in City Today

D. B. Carswell, marine superintendent, who came to the coast with R. K. Smith, director of marine services, Department of Transport, Ottawa, conferred today with Col. A. W. R. Wilby, agent for the Department of Transport here.

He is here on an inspection trip in connection with aids to navigation.

This morning, in company with Col. Wilby, Mr. Carswell inspected the Johnson Street marine depot and went aboard
D.G.S. Estevan.

Mr. Smith came out to the coast, on his first official visit, to look into a multiplicity of matters pertaining to the department, and particularly in connection with aids to navigation.

The Ripple Rock question may be investigated by Mr. Smith, according to reports from Vancouver. Removal of the rock in the centre of Seymour Narrows has been advocated by mainland interests.

Aside from Japanese and Russians there were about 30,000 foreigners in Shanghai before the Japanese attack on the city.

Pilots' Lookout

Sa. Coysa passed for Fraser
River, 7:30 a.m.
Sa. Tajon, due in quarantine for Ocean Falls, 4 p.m.

DOWN THE GANGWAY

Col. N. S. Falla, managing director of the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand, who has been in London in connection with proposals for the subsidized building of two speedy passenger liners for the Canadian-Australa-sian service, will sail from Victoria for Sydney, N.S.W., by R.M.S. Niagara on Wednesday evening.

SAILED BY MCKINLEY

Dr. Enrique C. Sobrepene of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, bound for Manila, was included in a missionary party leaving Victoria by Sa. President McKinley Saturday evening, for the Orient.

Other missionaries leaving by the American Mail liner were:
Dr. Esther Morse, Presbyterian, bound for Hongkong; Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Armstrong and daughter, Seventh Day Adventists, and Mr. Armstrong Sr., en route to Singapore, and Miss Nora Atkins, also a Seventh Day Adventist missionary, bound to the Strait Settlements, and Rev. Patrick Brennan, en route from China to Yokohama.

Others sailing by the liner included Mrs. C. B. Avera, wife of a United States navy officer, returning to Manila after a visit to relatives; Miss Ida May Ward of Portland, who will visit friends in the Philippine Islands; D. E.
Thompson of the Standard Oil Company of New York, en route to Hongkong; E. H. Kolb, also connected with the Standard Oil Company, and Mrs. Kolb, proceeding to Calcutta, India; A. Suwalsky, en route to Manila to visit relatives; Bruce M. Smith, Detroit businessman, proceeding to Kobe; Macaria Gunek, en route from Seattle to his home in Manila; W. J. Orland, proceeding to Manila on a business trip; C.
Landreville Le Doux, chief quartermaster U.S. Medical Corps, who will disembark at Kobe, and Miss Mildred Owen, connected with the Y.W.C.A., en route from New York to Hongkong.

John Cormode, vice-president of the American Mail Line, accompanied by Mrs. Cormode, came over from Seattle by the President McKinley Saturday and spent the weekend in Victoria.

GOING TO BERLIN

Three Japanese members of the Kobe Steel Works Limited arrived from Yokohama aboard
Ms. Hiye Maru en route to Berlin, Germany. They were R.
Kawasaki, son of a Japanese banker, who is making a world tour; S. Machinaga and K. Inoue, engineers.

In the same group was Y.
Makise of the Mitsubishi Shoji Kaisha of Osaka.
They will sail by the liner Europa for Hamburg.

NAVY MEN ON HIYE

Two British naval officers from the Orient, Lieut. J. W. F. Gwil-lim and Lieut. W. A. Stewart, crossed the Pacific from Japan by the Hiye Maru and proceeded to Vancouver. They intend to purchase an automobile in Seattle and motor across the continent to New York, where they will take ship for England.

F. J. Cruise, an Australian farmer on a world tour, was a passenger aboard the Hiye Maru from Japan. He plans to visit his old home near Dublin.

Another passenger traveler from Australia was Mrs. C. Hyndman, who will take Ms. Portland through the Panama Canal to Hamburg.

Harry Douglas, agent for the Great Northern Railway, returned by the Iroquois this morning after attending the funeral of the late J. F. Fawcett at Seattle.

Miss M. Gordon, sister of Dr.
King Gordon, C.C.F. candidate in the federal by-election here, arrived Sunday by Ms. Hiye Maru, accompanied by Miss M. J. Mackay of Winnipeg, after visiting the Orient and Japan. Dr. King Gordon went to Vancouver to greet his sister.

The ship was down to the pillory line.

The McKinley took out about 170 Chinese who had been serving on American Mail Line vessels as room stewards. The ships of this fleet now carry 100 per cent American crews.

Wairuna is Late Canadian-Australasian Line freighter Wairuna, originally scheduled to arrive this week from Australia, is now looked for in quarantine here December 8, bound for Vancouver.

The Wairuna will be followed in the service by Ms. Limerick with a cargo of Fiji sugar for the B.C. Refinery.

FURNISH SHIP SAILS
After loading at Vancouver and
New Westminster, Ms. Pacific
President, Capt. George Newman, cleared from the Fraser River port over the weekend on her homeward voyage. Three passengers were booked through to London.

The Pacific President's B.C.
cargo for London, Liverpool, Manchester and Glasgow amounted to 3,300 tons, including shipments of lumber, canned goods, spelter, boxed apples, plywood, shingles and doors. The ship took aboard 4,200 doors while at Victoria on her inward trip.

The next vessel of the Furness (Pacific) Line to reach here will be the Ms. Pacific Exporter, now en route up the coast from San Francisco. She is expected here November 30.

FRENCH FLIER SETS RECORD

Paul Codos—Deliberately Flew Into Bad Weather to Test Plane

NATAL, Brazil (CP-Havas)—
Paul Codos Saturday night beat the record for commercial crossing of the south Atlantic, although he deliberately flew into bad weather to test the capacity of his craft to withstand adverse conditions.

The French aviator crossed the south Atlantic from Dakar, Senegal, in 11 hours 55 minutes.

His flight, at altitudes varying from about 1,600 to 11,000 feet, was accomplished at an average speed of 174 miles an hour. He planned to leave for Buenos Aires after filling his fuel tanks.

A main purpose of the flight was to ascertain the causes of repeated accidents over the south Atlantic. Codos made no deliberate attempt to break the record.

He took off from Le Bourget
Saturday with a three-man crew.

Around the Docks

GRACIA HERE TODAY

Arriving from Glasgow via Guayaquil, San Francisco and Seattle, Sa. Gracia, Capt. J. B. McCafferty of the Donaldson Line, is scheduled to berth at Pier 1, Ritche Docks, late tonight.

The freighter is at Seattle today discharging a large shipment of bananas from Guayaquil.

Bananas from Ecuador and citrus fruits from California form the freight to be discharged here. For Vancouver the ship carries about 500 tons.

HIYE MARU ARRIVES

Ms. Hiye Maru of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, passed through quarantine here at 9:15 yesterday morning from Japan and proceeded to Vancouver.

The Hiye's cargo totaled 3,200 tons, and included a large consignment of Mandarin oranges from Japan and four carloads of raw silk for shipment east over the Great Northern Railway from Vancouver.

Of 75 passengers arriving by the N.Y.K. ship, 26 were routed to Vancouver.

THREE SHIPS DUE

Three vessels will be at the Ogden Point docks tomorrow taking aboard lumber.

The first of the fleet to arrive
Sa. Hyton, is expected tonight.
Tomorrow Sa. Celtic Monarch and Sa. Sedgpool are due here.

SHIP DEEPLY LADEN

When Sa. President McKinley warped in alongside Ogden Point docks Saturday afternoon from Seattle, outbound for the Orient, she was drawing 30 feet forward and 31.3 feet aft, heavily laden with 9,000 tons of cargo.

The ship was down to the pillory line.

The McKinley took out about 170 Chinese who had been serving on American Mail Line vessels as room stewards. The ships of this fleet now carry 100
per cent American crews.

Columbia W.A. Given Reports

Columbia Diocesan W.A. Board meeting was held Friday at St.
Saviour's, the president, Mrs. F.
C. Nivn, in the chair. A silent tribute was paid to two W.A. members who have recently passed away, Mrs. Duncan and Miss Fanny Ward. Mrs. Evans, president of St. Saviour's W.A. branch, welcomed the board and read the scripture lesson.

Mrs. Nivn spoke of having visited some of the branches up-island, in company with Mrs.
Black, Dorcas secretary, and Mrs. Frew, girls' secretary. In the correspondence read by Mrs.
Lyttton, a letter was received from Mrs. Weaver, now at Yokohama. The Weaver's report showed a life membership had been presented to Mrs. Lyttton of St. Luke's.

The Dorcas secretary reported many bales packed and shipped, and letters of appreciation received. The educational department told of successful gatherings with the study book slides, both in the city and up-island, and more requests coming in for the use of the slides. The girls' secretary reported enthusiastically of increasing interest in her department, and the social service work included clothing bought and distributed. Miss Checkley, junior secretary, reported a successful rally in October, and showed the attractive new junior pins, which have been manufactured in Victoria.

The midday prayers were taken by Rev. F. V. Venables, who also gave a helpful talk. After lunch, served by the St. Saviour's branch, intercessions were led by Miss Nicolls. Mrs. Sheppard reported several Little Helpers' parties, and Mrs. Phil noted 20 sacks of reading material taken on board the John Antle while in port. The embroidery guild has several orders on hand. A concise report was given by Miss Gwynne on the Extra Cents Fund, and Miss Mott gave the "Living Message" report.

An interesting talk was given by Dr. Sherman, who for 15 years was connected with medical missionary work in India, and who spent four years in Patna with the Interdenominational Zenana Bible and Medical Mission, instituted by Lady Kninnaird. Lady doctors were much in demand for this work, and Dr. Sherman outlined some phases of the mission and medical efforts.

Rev. H. J. Greig, field secretary of the Theological College, Vancouver, gave an informative address on the work of the college and stressed the need for bursaries, and also the need for men, as there is never any difficulty in placing them as soon as they are ready. Mrs. J. R. Hart
